TARIFF REVISION THROUGH HOUSE; NOW UP TO SENATE

Underwood Measure, Redeeming Party's Platform Pledge, Receives Great Majority.

BATTLE IN THE SENATE PROMISES TO BE BITTER

Republicans Senators, However, Admit Measure Will Go Through Practically in the Same Form.

Washington, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, proclaimed by the democratic party as the answer to its platform pledge to revise the tariff downward, was passed by the house late today. The vote was 281 to 139, five ayes voting against the bill and 2 republicans voting for it. Four progressives supported the bill and fourteen opposed it, while one independent progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction in the arrival of the day he long had sought, exhuberant democrats hoisted a stuffed democratic donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber, a faint ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of congress.

With the bill, after a month's consideration, on its way to the senate, there was a rush of representatives for their homes tonight. In the house adjournment will be taken three days at a time beginning next week until June 1. In the meantime, the senate finance committee will study the bill while the house ways and means committee will organize committees preparatory to the transaction of business next month.

Republicans and progressives, led respectively by Representatives Mann and Murdock, protested to the last against the measure, the lowest tariff bill ever written, and proclaiming as the democratic avalanche bowled them over the virtues of different tariff commission plans.

Five Democrats Opposed.

Republicans who voted for the bill were Cary and Stafford, of Wisconsin.

Democrats who opposed it were Broussard, Dupre, Lazare and Morgan, of Louisiana, on account of the schedule reducing sugar 25 per cent and sending it to the free list in three years, and C. B. Smith, of New York.

Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelley and Rupley, of Pennsylvania; Nolan, of California, and Bryan, of Washington. Kent, of California, formerly a republican, but now an independent progressive, also voted for the bill.

Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his progressive followers voted with the minority. Representative Copley, a progressive, did not vote, answering "present" to his name.

In the final consideration of the measure Minority Leader Mann made a lengthy speech on a point of order by Mr. Underwood to rule out provision for a tariff board in the motion by Representative Payne, of New York, to recommit the bill. Speaker Clark sustained the point of order. Mann appealed from the chair and a roll call was taken on Mr. Underwood's motion to table the appeal, the democrats winning 274 to 143. Progressive Leader Murdock also moved to recommit with instructions to provide for a non-partisan tariff commission, but he failed to get a roll call and then the Payne motion to recom-

SHRINERS LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

All of the Big Party Are Confident That Atlanta Will Be the Next Convention City.

Two hundred Atlanta Shriners leave tonight at 10 o'clock over the Southern railroad for Dallas, where they are going to capture the Shrine convention for the State City in 1914.

Two hundred determined men, with a complete knowledge of what a Shrine convention means, will boost Atlanta with every breath during their stay in the southwest, and will bring back with them the promise that one year hence, 25,000 nobles of the Mystic Shrine will journey from every nook of the country to be present and enjoy Atlanta's famed hospitality.

Nothing is lacking to get the big convention. Money, and much of it, is at hand. More than $75,000 raised in one day, is one of the big drawing cards. Never before in the history of shrinedom has such a large amount been raised in such a short time.

Shriners all over the country have been made aware of the enormous fund which has been made for the next convention, and nearly half have promised their support for Atlanta.

Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab Temple, is carrying in his pocket contracts showing that 65 per cent of the rooms in Atlanta's twenty-four big hotels have been signed up for convention week, and will assign thousands of rooms for the next year while in Dallas.

Forrest Adair has been a prominent attendant at every Shrine convention in the past fourteen years, and knows exactly what such a convention needs. Not a single detail has been overlooked. The raising of money, the contract with the hotels and the thousand and one other items incident to such a convention has been under his leadership, and now at last his plans are complete.

It is true that O. K. Houck is boosting Memphis—but Atlanta has already left Memphis in the background. Memphis raised $60,000 in about four weeks; Atlanta raised $75,000 in one day! And in addition to the enormous pull that Atlanta will have, a number of other cities have signified their intention of pulling for Atlanta for 1914.

Special Train for Shriners.

When the Southern train pulls out tonight a special section, containing several Pullman sleepers, a Pullman dining car and a Pullman tourist car for the Yaarab Temple's crack drum corps, will be attached.

The latter, an independent organization formed by the temple for shrine conventions and ceremonials, will make a great hit in their red coats and white trousers at Dallas. These young fellows are among the most expert in their line in the country, and will "toot Atlanta's horn" in more ways than one while away.

On the trip to Dallas short side trips will be made at Birmingham, Ala.; Meridian, Miss., and Shreveport, La.

Yaarab Temple's four officials are: Forrest Adair, John A. Hynds, W. A. Foster and Claude H. Hutcheson, the latter of Jonesboro.

The Arab patrol, forty strong, will carry their dress and fatigue suits. These are as follows:

Captain J. E. Searcea, First Lieutenant H. C. Ashford, Second Lieutenant F. E. Van der Veer, First Sergeant C. W. Ferguson, Quartermaster H. H. Milner and Patrolmen Albert Akers, C. E. Barber, J. J. Barnes, Jr., W. D. Benson, F. M. Brotherton, George E. Burnett, R. A. Burnett, G. H. Burton, B. Chapman, R. E. Church, Frank Cundell, E. E. Cunningham, J. C. Deavours, George Freeman, L. H. Geiger, H. H. Gordon, J. L. Grice, J. C. Holmes, M. E. McGee, M. N. Mixon, T. A. Mixon, R. S. Osborn, Charles E. Quarles, A. R. Rogers, Louis Stahl, S. R. Sumner, I. G. Teasley, John Terrell, E. T. Thurmond, E. D. Tompkins, W. A. Upchurch, W. D. Waitt, G. W. Woods, J. C. Wright and Cliff Lochridge.

Shriners who will go independently are: Fred Houser, J. C. Greenfield, S. L. Dickey, W. R. Joyner, H. G. Martin, J. B. Jacoway, Fred Patterson, Graham Phelan, J. Lee Barnes, Ben Coley, J. F. Carson, Fred Van der Pool, J. F. Waitt, George Beck, Jesse E. Couch and James Kempton.

Twenty-eight trains, the majority of them specials, will be run by the Texas and Pacific railway to Dallas for the big convention. The majority of the temples will travel in their special trains.

On Thursday, May 15, the majority of the Shriners will leave for their homes, and make early preparation for the biggest convention yet which will be held in the Gate City in 1914.

ATLANTA LAW SCHOOL IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Students of the Atlanta Law school have accepted the invitation to compete in the national oratorical contest. Leonard J. D. Grossman, of the senior class, who won the interstate oratorical championship for Illinois in 1909, will called upon to outline the details of the oratory contest, and the first Georgia state championship which will be held next spring.

Walter Young, field secretary of the Intercollegiate Oratorical association, reported that 208 colleges and universities from twenty-five states would compete for the national prize next year. This list includes Georgia, Georgia Tech, Emory, Mercer, State Normal and other colleges throughout the state. Following this report a local organization was effected.

L. J. Grossman was chosen chairman pro tem. and permanent officers were elected from the junior class to make arrangements for the contest next year. The election of president resulted in a spirited contest between M. J. Woods, of Ellaville, Ga., and R. E. Lee Cone, of Atlanta. The vote was a tie, and Mr. Cone withdrew in favor of Mr. Woods, who was declared president. Mr. Cone was then unanimously elected vice president, and J. R. McClelland secretary-treasurer.

Cells for the Whites.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 8.—The board of county commissioners has awarded the contract for the erection of four new cells in the county jail, to be placed on top of those already in the prison, and to be used for white prisoners only. Heretofore whites and blacks occupied the same cells. They will contain six bunks each, with a wide corridor and steel stairway, and equipped with standard toilet facilities.

200 LIVES ARE LOST WHEN THE REBELS DYNAMITE TRAIN

Soldiers of Huerta Traveling to Relief Are Besieged. Guaymas Are Blown Up. Only 50 Escape Death.

JAPANESE OFFER AID TO MEXICAN REBELS

WASHINGTON IS UNJUST, SAYS PRESIDENT HUERTA

Mexico City, May 8.—Claimants against Mexico need expect no settlement so long as the American government withholds recognition of the republic. While practically all pending claims have been accepted in principle, they will remain in statu quo.

President Huerta called American Ambassador Wilson to the palace today and, after expressing personal and official resentment at the attitude of the administration at Washington, made this declaration. He drew attention to the accomplished and prospective recognition by other nations, and said his attitude was the only one compatible with public opinion and national dignity.

President Huerta declared that a loan had been practically arranged, that the nation was solvent and that Washington was unjust.

Nogales, Ariz., May 8.—Two hundred lives are reported lost in the train disaster at Den, near the Sinaloa-Sonora border.

State troop leaders declare the train bearing 250 federal soldiers was not dynamited by stealth. It is said the insurgents fired into the train, exploding a car of dynamite which the federals were conveying to Guaymas.

Only fifty of the passengers are reported to have escaped death and others were wounded. The troops were moving from San Blas, in northern Sinaloa to Alamos below Guaymas, from which point the insurgents feared they would proceed to reinforce the garrison defending the gulf port.

Japs Offer to Aid Rebels.

Douglas, Ariz., May 8.—Four hundred Japanese residents of Sonora state have offered their services in arms to L. I. Pasquiera, the insurgent governor, according to a telegram received by the constitutionalist committee here today. The offer was refused, the governor explaining that the struggle was one in which Mexicans only should participate.

"Fifteen Japanese formed the committee which called on the governor yesterday at Hermosillo, the state capital. They said the four hundred Japanese were already armed. They composed, they asserted, all residents of the state, mostly farmers and mechanics. They offered to furnish their own ammunition for a time. The governor thanked the committee for its interest in the welfare of Mexico, he said, but declined the offer on the grounds of allenship of the proffered troops.

Rebels Surround Parral.

El Paso, Tex., May 8.—Americans arrived here today report that Parral, foreign mining center of Southern Chihuahua state, is surrounded by nearly 3,000 constitutionalists and that skirmishes with the federal outposts occur daily.

Parral is defended by more than 1,-600 soldiers and much artillery. The insurgents expect a decisive battle when the thirty days food supply of the town is exhausted.

Another strong force of insurgents is reported moving from the southern part of the state against Chihuahua City, the state capital. The Mexican Central Railway has been destroyed far to the south, preventing the arrival of the federal column, reported moving north from Torreon.

Wilson Watching Mexican Events.

Washington, May 8.—Intimations came from the white house today that President Wilson was carefully watching the course of events in Mexico and that the United States government at present was waiting to see if the anti-Huerta movement in the Mexican government to hold bona fide elections would materialize before determining the question of recognition.

Administration officials say the United States thus far has treated with the defacto government only on business of the most routine character and that it also has had no dealings with the constitutionalists in the north.

MACON CLUBS INDICTED.

Charged With Running "Tippling Houses" on Sunday.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Officers of the Elks lodge, Owls, Cherokee and Idlehour clubs were today indicted by the Bibb county grand jury on the charge of keeping a tippling house open on Sunday. All operate buffets in connection with the clubs. The offense is alleged to have been committed March 9.

There will hardly be any denial that the clubs kept open on Sunday, and the clubs are glad of an opportunity to test the law in that regard.

Against Change of Name.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., May 8.—The Episcopal council today instructed the delegates to the general convention in New York to vote against any change in the name of the church organization. The clerical delegates elected to the general convention are Stewart McQueen, of Montgomery; E. A. Peelck, E. W. Gamble, Selma; Matthew Brewster, of Mobile. The lay delegates are W. W. Screws, W. H. Taylor, Montgomery; Robert Jemison, D. M. Drennan, Birmingham.

Ere Morgan Sailed to Death He Pledged Woodrow Wilson Money and Influence if Needed

New York, May 8.—"When you see Mr. Wilson tell him for me that if ever there should come a time when he thinks any influence or resources that I have can be used for the country, they are wholly at his disposal."

These, the last words of J. Pierpont Morgan spoken to Colonel George Harvey, the day before Mr. Morgan sailed for Europe, never to return alive, were related tonight in an address by Col. Harvey before a gathering of bankers and other representative men at a dinner of the trust companies of America. Mr. Morgan was a republican and, in the words of Colonel Harvey, not only "regarded the political views advanced by Mr. Wilson, with honest apprehension, but never considered the democratic party fully capable of governing this nation." His message to the new president, Colonel Harvey cited as measuring the depths of the man's patriotism.

"Because of contrary proclivities of my own as to Mr. Wilson, I frankly did not seek opportunities to discuss public affairs with Mr. Morgan during the past few years," said Col. Harvey. "As you all know when he thought he was right in his judgment he was unaccustomed to betray any lack of positiveness and there were times when his didactic faculty so closely approached the dynamic in operation that one of prudent disposition was inclined to be wary.

"But the election had taken place, the inevitable had happened, and using Speaker Cannon's phrase, Mr. Wilson had become his president as much as mine—perhaps, in fact, a little more. Anyhow there was no constraint upon our conversation when I saw him for the last time in his library on the day before he went away. He was optimistic as ever regarding the country and I naturally spoke hopefully of the prospects of the incoming administration.

Curious Episode.

"Then followed this curious episode: Suddenly turning those piercing eyes upon me, Mr. Morgan said: 'Do you remember the American speech you made in London?' I remembered very well. It was not a speech—only a few succinct remarks at the close of a private dinner in reply to an anglicized sycophant who had mistakenly thought to curry favor with Mr. Morgan by speaking contemptuously of Mr. Bryan, who, on the preceding day, as it happened, I had introduced to him at a reception.

"'And do you recall,' he asked, 'those lines from Scott that you quoted when that man—I can hear now the emphasis upon those two words—'when that man had left the room?'

"I did, of course, and began to repeat:

"'Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said—'

"I hesitated for an instant and the succeeding words came from the big arm chair with odd distinctness:

"'This is my own, my native land.'

"Then very quietly Mr. Morgan asked if I could recall the remaining lines and I quoted imperfectly:

"'Whose heart hath ne'er within him burn'd
As home his footsteps he hath turn'd,
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well.'

"Half a minute, gentlemen, is a long time, but for fully that period I should say, Mr. Morgan sat perfectly still. Then, unconsciously beating time upon the arm of his chair as he used to do in church, he repeated as if soliloquizing:

"'Who never to himself hath said,

The Message to Wilson.

"And rising with difficulty from his chair, for he was then quite feeble, he said, with the emphasis that only quietude can give:

"'When you see Mr. Wilson tell him for me that if there should ever come a time when he thinks any influence or resources that I have can be used for the country, they are wholly at his disposal.'

"Barring the usual leave taking, those were the last words I heard from the lips of Mr. Morgan. They were the depths of a passionately loyal heart. Surely I can do no better than to leave them with you to remember, to cherish and to feel so long as you all shall live in this, our native land."

Referring to Mr. Morgan's testimony before the Pujo committee at Washington, Colonel Harvey said:

"Although mentally as strong as ever, physically he was sadly broken when summoned to Washington. At his age and in his condition, it was the severest ordeal of his life; but it was for the best, as he himself came to realize.

"I hated to go, he said to me, with characteristic simplicity the day before he sailed away. I hated to go, but I am glad I went. I think I did some good.'

"It was a comprehensive utterance in his usual few words—a revelation, too, of his innermost thought and aspiration. I had spoken of the favorable impression that had been created by his testimony; he had evinced the keenest appreciation.

"'Yes,' he had said, 'I am convinced that what you say is true. I think they know me better now. I hope so.'

"No sensitive man, no human man—and Mr. Morgan was most sensitive and most human—could have failed to be touched by the multitude of friendly expressions which had come to him from all sections of the country."

POSTMASTER BAKER TO BE INVESTIGATED

Charges Filed at Washington Against Moral Character of Savannah Official.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 8.—(Special.)—Charges against the moral character and fitness for office of Marcus Baker, Jr., postmaster at Savannah, were today filed with the postoffice department by W. G. Cooper, who is understood to be a discharged employee of that office, and a Mr. Seymour, who opposed Representative Edwards for congress in the last election.

Mr. Baker's term of office does not expire until July, 1916, but it is said, if the charges filed today are sustained, it will mean his early removal. No intimation was given out by the department as to the nature of the charges, but they were turned over to Carter B. Keen, chief of inspectors, for investigation.

FRANK AND LEE ORDERED HELD BY CORONER'S JURY FOR MARY PHAGAN MURDER

Sensational Statements Made at Inquest by Two Women, One of Whom Had Been an Employee, Who Declared That Frank Had Been Guilty of Improper Conduct Toward His Feminine Employees and Had Made Proposals to Them in the Factory.

EVIDENCE IN BAFFLING MYSTERY THUS FAR, IS CIRCUMSTANTIAL, IS ADMISSION MADE BY DETECTIVES

Frank and Lee Both Go on Stand Again and Are Closely Questioned in Regard to New Lines of Evidence and Forced to Reiterate Testimony Formerly Made to Coroner's Jury. They Will Remain in Jail Pending Action of the Grand Jury.

Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, and Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, suspects in the Mary Phagan murder, were ordered by the coroner's jury to be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton grand jury.

With this verdict the inquest closed at 6:28 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Frank and the negro will be held in the Tower until action is taken by the grand jury and solicitor general. The decision was reached within twenty minutes after the jury had retired.

Although much important testimony was delivered at the inquest, probably the most significant was the admission made by Detective Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, and Detective John Black, of headquarters, both of whom declared in answer to questions that they so far had obtained no conclusive evidence or clues in the baffling mystery, and that their only success had been attained in the forging of a chain of circumstantial evidence.

Testimony was drawn from a number of women and young girls who told of alleged undue familiarity of the suspected factory superintendent with them and other female employees of the plant. The boldest statement of this character was made by Nellie Pettis, a young sister-in-law of Mrs. Lillie Mae Pettis, an employee of the factory.

She declared that on one occasion, four weeks ago, when she had gone to Frank's office to obtain her sister's pay envelope, the superintendent had made an open proposal, and had even intimated the offer of money.

MRS. WILSON TO NAME POSTMASTER AT ROME

Bowie Will Get Place—Lee Favored Vandiver—Georgia Congressmen Alarmed.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is to name the postmaster at Rome. She will recommend to the president J. P. Bowie, a friend of her girlhood, and he will receive the appointment.

This information was conveyed to Representative Gordon Lee today when he called at the white house, and he gracefully yielded the place.

Lee Wanted Vandiver.

Mr. Lee was preparing to send in the name of John M. Vandiver, tax collector at Rome, for appointment as postmaster, but the latter heard that Mrs. Wilson desired a personal friend whom she had known when a young girl, and he asked that his name be not presented. Mr. Lee showed the letter of Mr. Vandiver to President Wilson and notified him that he would offer no objections to the appointment.

Mr. Bowie, the choice of Mrs. Wilson, is a retired manufacturer of Rome. It had been rumored for several months that he would get the place. No opposition to his confirmation will be offered by either of the Georgia senators.

Some Hidden Influence.

Following closely upon the rejection of Representative Bell's nominee for the postmastership at Gainesville, this second disappointment of a Georgia representative has aroused concern among the members of the delegation. None is willing to talk, but all believe some hidden influence is at work to overturn and defeat their plans by any means possible.

There is more under the surface than has yet come out. When asked about the matter today, Mr. Lee made no comment further than to say that he could not oppose Mrs. Wilson's wishes.

The Gainesville Matter.

There are no new developments in the Gainesville postoffice fight. Representative Bell has not even presented the indorsements of Mrs. H. W. J. Ham, whose name was sent to the senate, but has them yet in his possession. He has made a request that the nomination be withdrawn and that of A. S. Hardy be substituted. Until he hears from this request he will not make any statement.

Senator Hoke Smith called at the white house today, but said his talk with the president was entirely in regard to tariff problems, and that appointments were not mentioned.

Alabama Bankers.

Dothan, Ala., May 8.—With delegates from many Alabama cities and a number of guests from other states in attendance, the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Alabama Bankers' association convened here today. The convention will be in session three days.

Frank and Lee on Rack.

Both the superintendent and the negro suspect were placed on the rack during the afternoon session. Lee's statement was a reiteration of his former story. He was quizzed on new lines, however, answering all questions promptly and clearly. He preceded his employer.

Frank was interrogated in regard to new evidence that has been obtained by the sleuths.

He was worn and haggard, and shows the effect of his imprisonment. From 9:30 in the morning, at which hour the inquest was resumed, until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was placed on the stand, he sat in the office of Chief Beavers, the object of Coroner's Verdict.

The following is the verdict of the coroner's jury:

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913.

We, the coroner's jury, empaneled and sworn by Paul Donehoo, coroner of Fulton county, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body now lies before us, after having heard the evidence of sworn witnesses, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hurt, county physician, find that the deceased came to her death from strangulation. We recommend that Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton county grand jury. (Signed)

HOMER C. ASHFORD, Foreman.

DR. J. W. HURT, County Physician.

Frank's Testimony.

Frank was put on the rack at 5 o'clock. His examination was much shorter than the one to which he was subjected during the first session.

"What kind of elevator door is there to the shaft in the pencil factory?" was the first question.

"Sliding doors."

"How many?"

"One on each floor."

"Are they latticed or solid?"

"Solid."

"Where was the elevator at 12 o'clock Saturday?"

"I did not notice."

"Were the doors open or closed?"

"I don't remember."

"What protection would a person have from falling down the shaft f the doors were left open?"

"A bar which projects across the opening."

"After the crime was committed, where did the elevator stand?"

"I only know where it stood Sunday morning. It then was on the second floor."

"When you last removed the tape from the time clock, what did you do with it?"

"Handed it to an officer in the building."

"No."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes—positive."

"Do you remember a party at your house on the night of April 26?"

"Yes."

"Can you name the guests?"

"I don't remember them all."

"When the police came to bring you down to the factory that Sunday morning, what was said about whiskey?"

"I said I wanted something warm to drink. One of the detectives suggested whisky."

"What time was it?"

"Between 7:30 and 8 o'clock."

"What did you say about dreaming?"

"I said to someone that I thought I had dreamed of hearing the telephone ring in the dead of night."

"When you went to the undertakers', did you go in the water closet instead of the room in which the body lay?"

"No."

"Did you view the body?"

"Yes."

"Did you recognize the girl?"

"Yes."

"When did you first hear her name?"

"I don't remember."

"What time did you return home that Sunday afternoon?"

"I don't recollect."

"Did you telephone your wife before your return."

"Yes."

Did Not Discuss Murder.

"Was the murder discussed at home that afternoon?"

"Not much."

"What topic was discussed?"

"I don't remember."

"When did Quinn first mention to you his visit to the factory on the 26th?"

"I don't remember."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'Don't you recollect that I was at the factory Saturday about noon?'"

"What did you tell him about withholding that information until your attorney had been consulted?"

"I don't remember. I had so many visitors that I couldn't recollect the exact words."

"Who suggested the conference with your attorney relative to Quinn's visit?"

"I don't remember."

"How long have you known you had counsel?"

"Since Monday."

"Why was it mentioned that Quinn's visit be kept until consultation with your lawyer?"

"I don't remember."

"How can you lock the door between your office and the dressing room where the blood spots were found?"

"I have never seen it locked."

"Is it usually open or closed?"

"Closed."

"Is there any way of closing the doors on the back stairway?"

"Yes. They are locked."

"Describe your telephone conversation with Detective Starnes at the time you were informed of the tragedy?"

Frank Was Called Up.

"He asked me if I was superintendent of the National Pencil factory. T'd like to have you come down here at once,' he said when I informed him that I was Leo Frank. He said he wanted me to identify a girl, and asked me if I knew Mary Phagan.'

"Didn't you say that the first time you had heard her name was while you were traveling in the auto on the way to the factory Sunday morning?"

"I don't recollect that I did."

"Did you have any trouble with a girl in your office Saturday morning?"

"No. There was one incident where a mistake had been made in the pay envelope of Mattie Smith, but it was corrected without any trouble."

"What time was Mattie Smith in your office?"

"Between 9 and 10 a. m."

"Did anyone enter while she was there?"

"I don't remember."

"Give the name of everyone in the office throughout the day Saturday."

"Mr. Darley, Mr. Holloway, the office boy, Miss Hall, the stenographer; Mr. Campbell, Mr. Fullerton, Mrs. White, Lemmie Quinn, Mr. Gantt, Emma Clark, another girl employee, Arthur White, Harry Denham, Newt Lee and Mary Phagan."

"Did you see May Barrett?"

"I don't know her."

"What did you say to Emma Clark?"

"I don't remember saying anything to her."

He was released from examination at 4:55 o'clock.

Lee on Stand.

Newt Lee was put on the stand, and for the first time publicly told of the private conversation he held with Frank on the night the latter was arrested and brought to police headquarters. He was put through only a short examination.

"Detail your talk with Mr. Frank at headquarters Tuesday night a week ago."

"I was in the room locked up by myself. Mr. Frank, he came in. I says, 'Howdy, Mr. Frank; how're you feeling? It's highty hard,' I says, 'for me to have to sit here handcuffed to a chair for something I didn't do.'

"He said I knew something about the crime. I told him I didn't know a thing on earth about it.

"Then he said: 'Look here, Newt, if you keep up that same story we're both going to hell.' He said it loudly, and made a heapin gesture with his hands. I told him that the killing must have been done in the daytime, as all that night I had to pass once every thirty minutes by the machine where they said the little girl was killed. He wouldn't let me talk about it."

"When you came to work Saturday at 4 o'clock, did you say anything about wanting to go to sleep?"

"Yes, sir. When I got to the factory I went to the office door and hollered, 'All right, Mr. Frank, I'm here!' just like I always do. He came to the door, and said I could go out on the street and have some fun. I said I had rather sleep, because I hadn't been sleeping much of late, than have a good time out on the street. He said go on, though, and I went."

"Was that the first time he ever came to the door to greet you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was the street door locked when you entered the building?"

"No, sir."

Found Inside Door Locked.

"Was the inside door locked—the door leading to Frank's office and the second floor?"

"Yes, sir."

"Had it ever been locked before?"

"No, sir. Not since I've been working there."

"How did you get in?"

"Unlocked the door."

"When you arrived, was the scuttle hole near the elevator open?"

"I don't know, sir. It generally always does stay open, though."

"Was it light or dark on the second floor?"

"Dark."

"Did Mr. Frank put on the tape of the time clock at 12:02 when you returned from the street?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did he ever do this before?"

"Only once, that's all."

"How long did it take him to fix the tape?"

"A pretty good while."

"Whose shirt is that they found at your house?"

"It looks mighty like one I use to have."

"Sixteen."

"Whose clothes were in the barrel in which it was found?"

"Mine."

"Was the shirt ready-made?"

"No, sir. It was made by Mrs. Bowen, a white lady who gave it to me."

"If it is a ready-made garment, then it isn't yours?"

"No, sir."

Schiff Tells of Office Work.

Herbert Schiff, chief clerk of the pencil factory, took the stand.

"What is your capacity with the concern?" he was questioned.

"I formerly was a traveling salesman. I'm now chief clerk and first assistant to Mr. Frank."

"Are you entirely familiar with his handwriting?"

(The object of the coroner was to ascertain the exact amount of work done by the suspected superintendent during the day on which the murder is believed to have been committed.)

"Yes."

"His business, too?"

"Yes, thoroughly."

"Wasn't Frank behind with his office work on that particular Saturday?"

"What kind of work had accumulated?"

"Billing, orders and the financial sheet."

"Were you at the factory Saturday?"

"No."

"How many employees are there attached to the plant?"

"One hundred and fifty or more."

(At this juncture of his examination, Schiff was given the same assortment of clerical work to investigate which had previously been given Miss Hall. He was asked to identify Frank's handwriting. He recognized ten requisition sheets which the suspect had handled.)

"How long would it require to adjust these requisitions?"

"An hour and thirty minutes, I would say."

"Were you at the factory Monday morning at 8 o'clock?"

"Yes."

"When did you first see these papers?"

"Monday or Tuesday, I forget which."

"How long would you judge that it took Frank to complete the work on his books and papers which you recognize as having been performed by him that day?"

"About six or seven hours."

"Did you see him Sunday?"

"Yes, at Bloomfield's, the undertaker."

"Did you speak to him?"

"No; not at that time. I heard him say to Mr. Darley, whom he had accompanied to the undertaker's, that he was going to police headquarters."

"What clothes did he wear?"

"I did not notice closely, but it looked like a brown suit. I'm not sure."

"Did you talk with him at all Sunday?"

"A little. He told me what he had heard of the tragedy, and of being telephoned at daybreak."

"Do you know him well?"

"Yes, I do. I've been associated with him probably more than anyone connected with the plant."

"What is his general maner toward the girl employees?"

"He says very little to them."

"Is he naturally nervous?"

"Yes, quite so. He gets agitated over the least little happening."

Frank's Conduct Discussed.

The following is Tom Blackstock's testimony:

"Do you know Leo M. Frank?"

"Yes."

"How long have you known him?"

"About six weeks."

"Did you ever observe his conduct toward female employees of the pencil factory?"

"Yes. I've often seen him picking on different girls."

"Name some."

"I can't exactly recollect names."

"What was the conduct you noticed particularly?"

The witness answered to the effect that he had seen him place his hands with undue familiarity upon the person of girls.

"See it often?"

"A half dozen times, maybe. He generally was seen to become that familiar while he was touring the building."

"Can't you name just one girl?"

"Yes. Magnolia Kennedy."

"Did you see him act with undue familiarity toward her?"

"No. I heard talk about it."

"Before or after the murder?"

"Afterwards."

"When did you observe this misconduct of which you have told?"

"A year ago."

"Did you hear complaints around the plant?"

"No. The girls tried to avoid him."

At 6:58 o'clock, when the jury adjourned the inquest, executive session was declared. Behind locked doors, with even the coroner barred, the six jurors heard the statement of Dr. John W. Hurt, county physician, relative to the examination he had made upon the body.

He told them of the disclosure that death had been caused by strangulation, and minutely described the cuts and wounds about the chest, head and shoulders. No reference was made to the examination he held on the stomach by Dr. H. F. Harris, of the state board of health, nor of the analysis made at the grave where the body was disinterred Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Hurt's statement consumed twenty minutes or more. It required half that time for the jury to reach a verdict. When it had been delivered, Coroner Donehoo made a small speech of thanks, commending each man for his efforts during the inquest. Following which, the six men were paid their regulation fee of $1.

A pathetic feature of the adjournment was the handshake accorded the jury individually by James W. Coleman, stepfather of the slain girl. With tear-dimmed eyes and tremulous hand Mr. Coleman moved among the jurors, pressing their hands firmly and murmuring words of gratitude.

The final two hours of the inquest were occupied in examining witnesses whose testimony pertained to the suspected superintendent's alleged misconduct with female employees of the plant. These witnesses were Mrs. C. D. Donegan, Tom Blackstock, Nellie Wood and Nellie Pettis.

It was the first time such testimony had been introduced, and came as a surprise. The statement of the Pettis girl was the most interesting. She lives at 9 Oliver street and is apparently 18 or 19 years old.

Testifies to Improper Conduct.

She first was asked if she ever had been employed at the pencil factory.

"No," she answered.

"Do you know Leo Frank?"

"I have seen him once or twice."

"When and where did you see him?"

"In his office at the factory whenever I went to draw my sister-in-law's pay."

"What did he say to you that might have been improper on any of these visits?"

"He didn't exactly say—he made gestures. I went to get sister's pay about four weeks ago, and when I went into the office of Mr. Frank I asked for her. He told me I couldn't see her unless 'I saw him first.'

"I told him I didn't want to 'see him.' He pulled a box from his desk. It had a lot of money in it. He looked at it significantly and then looked at me. When he looked at me, he winked. As he winked he said: 'How about it?'

"I instantly told him I was a nice girl.

Here the witness stopped her statement. Coroner Donehoo asked her sharply:

"Didn't you say anything else?"

"Yes, I did! I told him to go to h—l! and walked out of his office."

Mrs. C. D. Donegan was next called to the stand. She was connected with the pencil plant for three weeks. Her capacity was that of foreladv. She resides at 165 West Fourteenth street with her husband.

"Frank Flirted With Women."

Her testimony follows:

"State your observations of Frank's conduct toward the girls and women of the plant."

"I have noticed him smile and wink at the girls in the place. That was two years ago."

"Did you make a statement to the detectives of undue familiarity you had witnessed?"

"I told them that I had seen Frank flirt with the girls and women—that was all I said."

The testimony of Nellie Wood, a young girl of 3 Corput street came next.

In brief it was this:

"Do you know Leo Frank?"

"I worked for him two days."

"Did you observe any misconduct on his part?"

"Well, his actions didn't suit me. He'd come around and put his hands on me, when such conduct was entirely uncalled for."

"Is that all he did?"

"No. He asked me one day to come into his office, saying that he wanted to talk to me. He tried to close the door, but I wouldn't let him. He got too familiar by getting so close to me. He also put his hands on me."

"Where did he put his hands?"

"He barely touched my breast. He was subtle with his approaches, and tried to pretend that he was joking, but I was too wary for such as that."

"Did he try further familiarities?"

"Yes."

"When did this happen?"

"Two years ago."

"What did you tell him when you left his employ?"

"I just quit, telling him that it didn't suit me."

Detectives On Stand.

The placing of Detectives Scott and Black on the rack created surprise. They had been assisting in the examination of witnesses. Both were quizzed during the afternoon session.

Scott was first to take the stand.

"What is your profession?"

"Assistant superintendent of the Atlanta branch of the Pinkerton Detective agency."

"And, are you investigating the Mary Phagan case?"

"I have been retained by the National Pencil company through Leo M. Frank, to catch the murderer of Mary Phagan."

"When and how were you retained?"

"Monday following the discovery of the body, I was called over the telephone by Mr. Frank. I went to see him at his office and was employed."

"State what conversation ensued between you?"

"Frank said, 'I guess you have read of the horrible crime that has been committed in our factory building. We desire to catch the murderer or murderers, and want to employ the Pinkertons so as to show the public that we are interested in the case.' He also said that John Black, a detective at police headquarters, seemed to suspect him of the crime. He detailed to me his movements on the day of the murder. This was his explanation:

"I was at the office of the plant until 10 a. m., when I went to Montag's office, returning to the factory about 10:30 o'clock. White and Denham, two mechanics, were in the building, and, about 12:10 o'clock, Mary Phagan came in to draw her pay. As she stepped from the office with her envelope, she called back to see if the tipping metal had arrived. About 12:50 o'clock, I left for dinner, returning at 3:10. At 4 o'clock, the negro watchman, Newt Lee, appeared. He was dismissed because of the rupture in my plans to attend the ball game. At 6:30, the negro returned and I went home for the night.'"

Scott Questioned Frank.

"Did you ask him any questions?"

"I asked him but little, nothin, in fact."

"Did he show you over the building?"

"Yes, we inspected the time clock, the elevator, machine room in which the girl is supposed to have been killed, and the spot in the basement where the body was found."

"Who was with you beside Frank?"

"A Mr. Darley."

"Did Frank make any suggestions as to how you might proceed with your investigation?"

"None whatever."

"Did he advance any theories?"

"None."

"Have you talked with him since?"

"Only once, and that was while he was being examined at police headquarters."

"Did Frank reprimand you for questioning him, or protest against the tone of your questions?"

"No."

"Did he ask you to stop the investigation?"

"No. Herbert Haas asked us to turn over to him the report of our progress until further notice. I told him we'd first withdraw from the case."

Scott Reports to Manager.

"Who is getting your daily reports?"

"Sig Montag, manager of the pencil factory."

"Are you still in the employ of the pencil factory?"

"Yes."

"Who planned the conference between Lee and Frank?"

"Detective Black and I. We asked Frank to impress upon the negro the importance of telling the truth."

"What was he told to say to Lee?"

"What I have just told you."

"What did Frank say when the conference was finished?"

"That he could not get a thing out of the negro."

"What did the negro say?"

"That Frank told him that if he stuck to his original story, both would go to h—l, and that Frank had made no effort to question him.

"What did Frank say regarding the conference?"

"That he could get nothing from Lee, and that he had made every possible effort to get the truth."

"Were you with Detective Black when a bloody shirt was searched for the bloody shirt?"

"No."

"Did you see the shirt in question?"

"Yes."

"Describe it!"

"It was bloody, and looked as though it had been recently washed. It exhaled a strong odor of blood."

"Had it ever been laundered?"

"There was no mark to indicate it."

"Did Lee ever see it?"

"Yes, he recognized it, but said it had not been worn for two years." He could not account for the blood stains."

Scott Refuses to Committ Self.

"Mr. Scott, have you any direct clue or clues?"

"I won't commit myself at present."

"Have you anything positive?"

"Only surmises. We are only running out a chain of circumstancial evidence."

"Is this information in only your possession?"

"No. It is also in Detective Black's." Detective Black was called.

"Tell the jury about the bloody shirt which you found in Newt Lee's home."

"Fred Bullard, a headquarters' detectives, and I went to the rear of 40 Henry street last Tuesday a week ago and found it in a trash barrel at the negro's home."

"In which part of the barrel was it found?"

"In the bottom."

"Was the barrel odorous?"

"Yes. It was strong with the fumes of refuse."

"Did you see the shirt Lee wore Sunday when he was arrested?"

"Yes."

"Was it like the bloody one?"

"No. It was a woolen garment. The bloody one was linen."

"What is the bloody shirt now?"

clue in the Phagan case?"

"Have you discovered any positive clew in the Phagan case?"

"No."

"What did Lemmie Quinn tell you of his trip to the pencil factory on the Saturday that Mary Phagan disappeared?"

"He told me last Tuesday that he was not at the factory at all on April 26."

Six Witnesses at Morning Session.

Three hours of the most rigid questioning of witnesses at yesterday morning's session of the coroner's inquest into the death of Mary Phagan failed to bring out any new evidence of importance. Six witnesses—Boots Rogers, a former county policeman; Lemmie Quinn, foreman of the pencil factory; Miss Corinthia Hall, employed at the factory; Miss Hattie Hall a stenographer; J. L. Watkins and Miss Daisy Jones—were examined by Coroner Donehoo, but the testimony differed in no way from what has already been given.

Constitution Reporter Testifies.

Rogers told how Britt Craig, the Constitution reporter, was the first to enter the basement and see the dead girl's body as it lay "face down" in the basement of the pencil factory. His story of how Lee told the officers of his discovery of the body was identified with other testimony on this point.

After Lee had been arrested Rogers said that he went in an automobile to the home of Miss Grace Hix, at 100 McDonough road, an employe at the factory, and brought her to the factory to identify the body of Mary Phagan. He then went for Frank, who had in the meantime been telephoned to, and found him nearly dressed, but nervous.

Rogers said that when the officers arrived at the Frank home, Frank asked whether there was anything wrong at the factory.

He, the factory, Rogers testified, Frank ran the elevator and examined the time clock, reporting that it was correctly punched. His only remark to the arrested night watchman was "too bad."

Rogers told of how he then took Frank to the undertaker's shop to see the girl's body, and later took him to police headquarters to be questioned.

L. L. Quinn, the foreman under whom Mary Phagan worked, stated that he had not seen Mary Phagan since the Monday prior to her death when she was suspended from work on account of a shortage of material.

He stated that he did not work on the Saturday of the murder, but was in the pencil factory to see Mr. Schiff, and talked with Frank only a few minutes after the time when Frank is supposed to have paid off Mary Phagan. He said he did not see Mary Phagan that day. Quinn accounted minutely for his whereabouts and actions on the day of the murder.

Had Forgotten Visit.

He stated that he had forgotten his visit to the factory on the day of the murder until the Tuesday or Wednesday following, but when he remembered it, he asked Frank if he had better tell the officers. Frank, he said, suggested that he tell his—Frank's—lawyers about it.

Upon being asked why he had withheld his story of his visit to the factory from the detectives, Quinn said that he did not want to be questioned by the detectives and drawn into the case.

He was questioned about his visit to the Coleman home, where Mary Phagan lived, after the murder, and was also questioned as to the treatment received by girls working in the factory.

Miss Hattie Hall, stenographer for Sig Montag, stated that she was at the factory on Saturday morning working for Frank from about 11 o'clock until noon, but did not see Mary Phagan and could throw no light on the mystery. She told how much and the nature of the work she did for Frank on that day, she said she left the factory at 12:02 o'clock.

The former testimony of J. L. Watkins to the effect that he had seen Mary Phagan on the street between 5 and 6 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder was broken down when a Miss Daisy Jones told the jury how she had passed where Watkins thought he saw Miss Phagan at the time the Watkins lad designated, and that Watkins probably saw her instead. Watkins, being recalled to the stand, admitted his mistake.

Miss Corinthia Hall, who has been an employee at the pencil factory for three years, testified that Frank's conduct toward the girls in his employ was beyond reproach. She said that she left the factory at 11:45 on the morning of the day of the murder; did not see Mary Phagan and had not seen her since the Monday before when she was laid off from work.

The theory that Mary Phagan was slain by a Greek who worked in a nearby cafe, has been disproven and is abandoned by the detectives.

LAWLESS REPORTS DENIED BY MAYOR

Officials of Milltown Send Communications to Governor Brown and The Constitution.

A telegram to Governor Brown and a communication to The Constitution, received yesterday morning, give another side to the fish-pond dispute at Milltown, in Berrien county.

The telegram is from J. J. Knight, and he states that the reports of lawlessness at Milltown are "absolutely untrue," and that affidavits can be furnished to substantiate the statement.

The letter to The Constitution is from William M. Pafford, the mayor of Milltown, who says that the statements made by Warden M. F. Bolsclair are untrue. Mayor Pafford makes a full statement about the fishing rights in the Milltown pond.

Upon receipt of the telegram, Governor Brown took occasion to say that there has not been the least intimation to him about sending troops to Berrien county, and that he has not remotely considered any such idea. He says that nobody has asked him for troops, and that if such a thing was done it would not be considered unless there was a demand from the officials, who would have to show him that they were unable to enforce the law and preserve the peace.

The telegram to Governor Brown was as follows:

Telegram to the Governor.

"Milltown, Ga., May 8, 1913.—Via Valdosta, Ga.—Governor Joseph M. Brown, Atlanta, Ga.: Newspaper reports Milltown lawlessness absolutely untrue. Can furnish affidavits by as good men as Georgia has that Deputy Warden Bolsclair stated privately and repeatedly that he was misled and would not have taken warrants had he known facts. Perfect order here; suggestion sending troops resented.

"(Signed) J. J. KNIGHT."

The letter to The Constitution from Mayor Pafford, of Milltown, follows:

Mayor Pafford's Statement.

"Editor Constitution: In the article appearing in today's issue of The Constitution entitled, 'Deputy Warden Says Fishermen Threatened His Life,' many misrepresentations of facts concerning the prosecution of twenty citizens for fishing in Banks' pond appear, and in justice to the parties concerned, I would like to explain some of the circumstances and facts pertaining to the case that the public may arrive at the proper verdict.

"In the first place, the evidence furnished the game department (which inspired Mr. Mercer to proclaim that his wardens have been intimidated, their lives threatened and that the local authorities (referring, probably, to the sheriff of Berrien county and the solicitor of the city court) 'are too much in sympathy with the lawless fishers to give any assistance,' is absolutely untrue.

"The efficiency of these two officers and their prompt service in executing the business of their office has never been questioned or criticised to this extent before, even through their long continuance in office, and if they refuse to assist Mr. Mercer's wardens or anybody else to prosecute, persecute, humiliate and disgrace a people who are exercising their property rights and privileges under the law, they are to be complimented.

Puts It Up to Legislature.

"The Georgia legislature will first have to enact a law authorizing Mr. Mercer and his wardens to stop fishing on certain sections of Banks pond, which he threatens to do, at the expense of every cent of his department, for section 7 of the game law privileges a person to fish, with permission from the owner of the land, which all those twenty citizens who were arrested on the 3d instant, claim to have had—not from the owners of Banks' estate, but from the real owners of the land, as the law prescribes.

"The Banks estate owns comparatively a very small part of the land which the water covers. The were privileged to back the water on a part of the remainder for the purpose of operating machinery, which they have ceased to do for about fifteen years.

"Now is it not absurd that Mr. Mercer should confer with the governor in regard to the suspension of these officials who failed to help him intimidate the people to agree that above their property rights or regard for legal privileges, there stood a greed for money which must be appeased, and a spirit to predominate which must first be satisfied?

"In regard to the warden sent about a month ago,' a Mr. Peyy from Ben Hill county, drove through on a buggy and spent the night near town at the home of one of Berrien county's best citizens, and in conversation with folks there and with the people on our streets the next day he learned secretly that the parties he was sent to prosecute were not the real violators of the law. Before our people knew his business he had apprehended the real violators (all of whom are connected with Mr. Bolsclair in this prosecution) and proceeded to swear out warrants for netting and trapping illegally against the parties, yet Mr. Mercer says he was intimidated.

No Threat of Violence Made.

"In regard to the 200 or 300 whom Mr. Bolsclair says threatened his life, even surrounded him and made all sorts of threats, I will say that there were no threats of violence by these people. There were about fifty who attended the trial to learn the law regulating the fishing privilege.

"Mr. Bolsclair stated to several citizens here that he was misinformed as to the true condition of affairs; that the whole thing had been misrepresented to him, and that these people whom he had arrested had a legal right to fish, as they were fishing with hook and line, and that he was sorry he had made such a mistake. But when he gets back to Atlanta he sees the splendid chance of advertising his wardenship and proceeds to put the state game warden on double quick, to ascertain whether the governor had at his command a militia strong enough to prohibit a few citizens at Milltown from fishing on their own land with hook and line.

"No, there was no reason of Mr. M. F. Bolsclair becoming alarmed, unless he feared the people would know the real object of the prosecution. To him only a few appeared to be a host, and the cooing of a babe the curses of a mob bent on vengeance.

Miss Mary Roberta Steadwell, of Nashville, a prominent impersonator who has appeared before a number of the larger universities, has been secured by the S. V. D. fraternity of Atlanta to deliver several of her child impersonations at the big feast which this fraternity will give to the newsboys of the city in the Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday evening.

Miss Steadwell is quite prominent socially in Nashville and elsewhere, and when in Atlanta will be entertained by a number of the society matrons. The S. V. D. boys feel that they have been singularly fortunate in securing her for this one night, as she has never before appeared before an Atlanta audience.

Miss Steadwell, who is a graduate of the Vanderbilt university school of expression, and has appeared in the north and east, was heard in Nashville a few days ago in "Everywoman," and according to the newspaper notices, scored quite a success in Walter Brown's masterpiece. Her selections here at the "feast" will be entirely child impersonations and other pieces which will appeal to the average boy.

Celebrates Birthday.

The eighty-ninth birthday of H. A. McLarin, of Fairburn, Ga., was celebrated by several children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren who met with him at Grant park last Tuesday. The event was a happy one and will long be remembered by those who joined in the festivities. Mr. McLarin, who was born in Campbell county, where he has lived all his life, is a veteran of the Civil war, and for four years he saw service under the Stars and Bars.

SHRINERS CRUELLY EXTRACT L. GOPHER GREGG'S GOAT

Last night at 11 o'clock the telephone bell in the local room broke sharply into the chorus of chattering typewriters. The night city grabbed the hand phone to his bosom. "Sounds like they've solved the Phagan mystery," he gloated. "Hello!" he bawled into the receiver.

A faint, fluttering voice like the last notes in the ensemble of the "Miserere" said something inarticulate. "Speak up!" demanded the impatient night city. "Who's there?"

"Why, its me, me, don't you recognize me—Gregg—Loo-ie Gregg," came the meek answer. "Well, what'd'ell is it, Gregg?" snapped the man on the desk. Ordinarily a query so energetic would have drawn battle from Lewis Gregg, the gopher-artist-good-fellow, who is quick with his tongue as with his pen. But evidently all the fight had been taken out of him.

"They're putting me through the Shrine," was the answer, "and I just wanted you to leave word for the boss not to expect me in the morning. I'd like to come and you know, old man, I've often been at my desk when I was through with the day's work and spring- fever and other deadly complaints, but now—" The voice broke off abruptly. Then a wail of agony. Then a weird echo as though of the impact of a barrel stave against a round, immovable body. A gruff, "Get out of here and back to the room," sounded suspiciously like Forest Adair. Then a click! Then silence!!

ARTIST HENDERSON'S IDEA OF WHAT HAPPENED.

Dread Anticipation.

Even so, dear reader. Last night they transformed the peace-loving, rotund and mild-mannered Lewis Gregg, premier cartoonist and originator of the gopher, into a full-fledged Shriner. They may still be transforming him, for all we can prove to the contrary.

Mr. Gregg approached the cannon's mouth with his eyes open. Several weeks ago he let out boasting talk with a confident demeanor that he'd soon be a Shriner. He kept up a braggadocio air until some Shrine friends took him to one side. "See here, boy," said they in substance, "you're going to have some young time initiation night. For a long time we boys have been laying for a specimen like you. They're tired of mollycoddle initiations. They're going to return to the third degree and tonight, and you're the goat because you're husky enough to stand it."

It was true. Mr. Gregg is husky. His altitude is in the neighborhood of 6 feet. Around the equator he is so sizable that he's put several tailor's tapes out of business. His shoulders are commensurate. As strong as an ox and lusty as a Bulgarian brigadier, he offered just the sort of target for Shriner joviality.

Off to the Wars!

To pile terror on terror it was suddenly divulged to him that hostilities would begin at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, whereas formerly 8 o'clock in the evening had been ample time. Of course he knew that there was an unusually large class of applicants for the Shrine, and for a few hours he soothed himself with the theory that that fact accounted for the shift in hours. Suddenly he was called to the phone. "Say, Lewis," said a friend's voice, with the solicitous accent on strong, "hope you're feeling good, son. They shoved up initiation hour three hours tonight, so they'll have plenty of time to work on you. Are—" He got no farther. Gregg stumbled out of the booth and draped himself across his drawing board.

Why prolong the agony? He left the building at 4:53 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His knees were seen to knock together as he reached Broad street. He turned in all directions with a scarlet look as he rounded the corner. He was swallowed up by the big buildings. Then to the lodge room—and so far as we know he is still there.

They say today you can't buy either arnica or liniment in any of the uptown drug stores.

Fifty-four barefooted pilgrims crossed the burning sands last night, and were initiated into Yaarab temple, of the nobles of the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine.

Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab temple, was in charge of the ordeal at the Auditorium-Armory, and until far past the witching hour of midnight the poor victims were passed through one test after another, to prove their worth and right to wear the red fez with the tantalizing tassel.

What really happened will never be told the barbarians of the outer world. The burning sands which were crossed, the red-hot plowshares trod, the foe-cold water baths and the methods thereof are veiled in mystery; but this morning there are fifty-four prominent business and professional men who swear by the red fez, all that it stands for, "Atlanta in 1914."

PANAMA CANAL DISPUTE SHOULD BE ARBITRATED

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 8.—Theodore Roosevelt would have the United States and Great Britain "agree in advance" to arbitrate any question which might arise between them. So he told the international conferes who are arranging the centenary celebration of peace among English-speaking peoples in addressing them as their host today at luncheon at his home on Sagamore Hill. Newspaper men were not admitted to the functions, but a summary of his remarks, "approved by Mr. Roosevelt," was made public.

Although it was said he did not specifically mention the Panama canal dispute, members of the foreign delegation said he unmistakably referred to that question as one which should be settled by arbitration, if settlement could not be reached by negotiation.

"I am not myself one who readily makes a promise, but, once made, I should think it should be kept," he was quoted by H. F. Ferris, secretary of the British delegation, as saying in apparent reference to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which was signed during Colonel Roosevelt's administration.

"Speaking of the extent to which he would accept arbitration methods in international disputes," read the summary, "Mr. Roosevelt said that he was perhaps somewhat of a heretic in the eyes of his friend, Mr. Carnegie (who sat on his right), as there were certainly some subjects which under certain conditions he would never consent to submit to arbitrafration, but he would assure him of this—that so far as the British empire and the American republic were concerned he was prepared to agree in advance to the settlement of any question that might arise, either by mutual agreement, by arbitration or any other method that would not produce friction. War between these two countries was, and must be, inconceivable.

"Mr. Roosevelt gave first the toast to the king and emperor of the British empire and the toast of 'peace, with justice and righteousness, between the nations and within the borders of each nation'—a toast most heartily drunk by all present."

About twenty-five members of the conference were present, motoring here from New York, whither they returned in the late afternoon. Lord Weardale and Andrew Carnegie sat at the host's right and on his left were Sir Edmund Walker, of Canada, and Sir George Houston Reid, of Australia. Colonel Roosevelt entertained his guests in a khaki riding suit and spurred boots.

Sheriff Bennett Dead.

Vienna, Ga., May 9.—Sheriff Bennett, of Dooly county, died here early this morning from bullet wounds inflicted Wednesday last by Oscar Blow, whom he was attempting to arrest for murder. Blow was shot and killed by the sheriff after the latter had been hit by several bullets. A few hours previously Blow had shot to death P. P. Sangster, a neighbor with whom he engaged in a pistol duel to settle a long-standing quarrel.

Boy Burned to Death.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—A 4-year-old son of A. J. Ellis, of this city, was burned to death at Roberta, Ga., today when the home of his uncle, D. R. Ellis, was destroyed by fire. The child was playing with matches on a second floor. His 13-year-old sister heard screams and on reaching the stairway found that she was cut off by flames.

She Failedt o Live on $5 a Week And Ended Struggle With Poison

South Farmingham, Mass., May 8.—The story of a brave but unsuccessful struggle for existence on a weekly wage of $5, was told at the Union Avenue hospital today with the announcement that Helen M. Goodridge, 18 years old, died last night from poison, self-administered. She took rat poison yesterday and was removed to the hospital in a dying condition.

In an ante-mortem statement the girl said she had been obliged to support herself since she was 14 years old. Recently she came here from Upton, Mass., where she had worked in a hat factory. She obtained employment here in the paper box and crepe paper factory of the Dennison Manufacturing company.

Her earnings were insufficient, she said, for her support; she had "been half starved for weeks" and chose to end her life rather than to continue what seemed to her a hopeless struggle.

Miss Goodridge bore a perfect reputation, according to acquaintances. Among the effects found in her room at a lodging house was a letter addressed to her mother in Philadelphia, and a Bible which had been presented to her as a reward by the Sunday school which she attended.

The superintendent at the Dennison factory said the girl had been at work only a short time, and, like all unskilled helpers, was started at $6 a week.

OLD GUARD PROMISED ROYAL ENTERTAINMENT

The Old Guard will be royally entertained on their coming trip through the east, and Colonel J. F. Burke, of the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard, is daily receiving formal announcements of the ceremonies and receptions with which they will be welcomed.

President and Mrs. Wilson will greet the Old Guard in Washington, where a notable reception is being planned. In Baltimore the Fifth Maryland regiment will have charge of the entertainment. In Philadelphia the State Fencibles will meet the Atlantans.

The Seventh regiment will meet the Old Guard at the depot in New York, and will act as a guard of honor from the train to the hotel. On Sunday the whole battalion will attend religious services in a body, and receptions, sight-seeing tours and banquet with crowd every minute of the Atlantans in New York.

The Second Coast artillery will be on hand to welcome the Old Guard in Boston. Under escort of the Boston Light Infantry they will march to Kinsley Post, G. A. R., and thence to the soldiers' monument, which the Boston soldiers will decorate with flowers. The Georgians will place a floral wreath on the monument.

The ladies in the party will be entertained royally in Boston, and after a trip to Lexington and Concord, memorial exercises will be held in old Tremont Temple. Before they leave Boston the Old Guard will be the guests of honor at an elaborate banquet given by the G. A. R.

TWO EVENTS PLANNED AT ATLANTA THEATER

Atlanta's society set and all followers of theatricals are interested in two events planned at the Atlanta theater for tonight and tomorrow afternoon. Tonight is to be Society Night in honor of Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, the local beauty who made her debut with the Billy Long company this week in "The Girl from Out Yonder." Many friends, former schoolmates and acquaintances of Miss Harrison will attend the performance to pay their respects and good wishes to the bright young woman.

Tomorrow afternoon Miss Long and her associates of the stock company will hold a public reception on the stage after the matinee performance, Miss Long received on Wednesday of last week and met hundreds of Atlantans. Tomorrow she will meet other hundreds following the performance. She has won many friends by this unique idea of receiving those interested in theatricals and when she did not hold a reception early this week many wrote asking that she do so Saturday.

SPRING WEATHER HERE, STATES WEATHER MAN

Another day of typical spring weather is promised for Friday—fair and cool enough to be comfortable.

There will be a few showers meandering down around Savannah and along the eastern part of the state, which may wander as far inland as Atlanta, but they are hardly expected.

WOMAN'S HANDKERCHIEF BROUGHT TO OFFICERS

The detectives are investigating today a clew in the Phagan case brought to Atlanta Thursday by W. A. Smith, of Jonesboro, an employee of the Central of Georgia railroad, which was to the effect that he had just completed a thirty-hour chase, covering a trip of more than 100 miles, after two men who talked and acted suspiciously in his presence at the Jonesboro station Tuesday afternoon. The men, he said, escaped and the only tangible evidence which Smith showed the detectives was a lady's blood-stained handkerchief with a hole—apparently chewed—in the middle of it. Mary Phagan's mother was unable to identify it as the property of her daughter.

Smith, who came to Atlanta with Constable J. M. Archer, of Jonesboro, stated that on last Tuesday night he was standing in the Jonesboro station and overheard a part of a conversation between two strange men about the Phagan case, and his suspicion was aroused. He looked for an officer, but he could not find one, and as the men were boarding a southbound Central train he made up his mind to shadow the.

When the rain pulled into Barnesville the men got off and Smith followed them. While in their wake here, Smith found the bloody handkerchief. The men hired a buggy and drove to Coggins, about 5 miles away, and Smith followed in another buggy.

From Coggins the men drove to Constitution, a station on the Southern about 10 miles south of Atlanta, but when Smith arrived they had disappeared. At Constitution Smith found the buggy the men had used, but all trace of the men had vanished.

Smith returned his buggy to Barnesville and proceeded to Jonesboro, where he related his experience to Constable Archer.

JURY IS DEADLOCKED IN THE SHEDD CASE

Augusta, Ga., May 8.—The case of Marshall Shedd, being tried for the murder of Edward Collins, which was submitted to the jury last night, is still undetermined. Today the jury announced that it appeared impossible to agree upon a verdict. They were admonished by the court that it was their business to find a verdict and send back for further deliberation.

Juror A. M. Clark was tonight taken from the jury room and removed to a hotel on account of illness.

Three ways to buy clothes

YOU buy your clothes in one of three ways. Which do you think is the best way?

1. You may go to a custom tailor and have them "made-to-order." You have delays; "try-ons"; you don't know what you're going to get; and if he's a cheap tailor—$25, $30, $40—you don't get very much.

2. You may pick out a piece of cloth from a book of samples; send your specifications away somewhere; and wait. If the suit "makes up" as you expected, if it is trimmed as you hoped, if it fits as you want it to, you're lucky.

3. You may go to a dealer in our clothes; see them ready, not merely a piece of cloth; see how they look on you, not in an illustration or on a dummy figure; see the linings and trimmings, not merely words about them; see how the suit fits, before you buy, not after; see if it's becoming to you, not just guess at it; and take only a few minutes of your time.

This third way is right; you pay less than in 1; and get more value than in 2. As a demonstration of it, ask any dealer in our goods to show you one of our suits at $25.

THE GREEKS.

The Greeks of Atlanta are justified in resenting the reports that inadvertently identify them as a race with the Mary Phagan murder. As a nation they are among the most law-abiding and peaceable people in the world. Particularly is it rare that one of their number is connected with a crime of the revolting nature here under discussion.

Use of the phrase, "Mediterranean style," in referring to the Phagan outrage, is unwarranted. There is no style in murder, save that of murder itself, and crimes just as horrible occur away from the Mediterranean as on its borders. The Greeks are right in contending that when crime is discussed there is no more sense or justice in saying "So-and-So, the Greek," than in saying "So-and-So, the American," or the German, or the Englishman, the Frenchman, or any other nation.

While newspaper references to Greeks with regard to the Phagan case do not, of course, intend specifically to lay the entire race under suspicion, it is natural that a proud and law-respecting people should resent the inevitable imputation. The Atlanta Greeks, especially, are justified in their protest. They are uniformly public-spirited, quiet and law-abiding, and they make a body of sterling citizens.

PETTY BUSINESS.

The city authorities generally are asking Atlanta to rejoice with them because only a six months' growth of values indicates the finance committee will, next month, have an additional $250,000 income at its disposal. Fine! No one will, of course, be surprised, but the report is, just the same, a gratifying evidence of the growth of the city.

Now read a communication published on this page from John L. Tye. He tells of the plague of dust that is threatening life and producing loss and discomfort throughout the city.

Here is a city whose income increases by leaps and bounds. Yet it cannot spare a few dollars for sprinklers to keep down dust that threatens the health and damages the property of its citizens. If that is not a ridiculous contradiction, we don't know where to look for one. It all traces back to the miserably inefficient and short-sighted municipal policy that, in making improvements of every nature, fails to take care of the little things that mean so much for health and comfort.

Taxpayers in every part of the city have a right to demand that the city put sprinklers at work to safeguard the health of themselves and their children, and to prevent their household goods from being ruined. It is as much the business of the municipality to perform this seemingly small function as it is to take charge of sanitation or to enforce the garbage can ordinance.

Atlanta is still subscribing to a contemptible, petty policy. Protesting citizens should pound away until it is corrected.

AN UNJUST DISCRIMINATION.

A communication from W. T. Wycks, published elsewhere, inspires increasing wonder that the federal house of representatives should have put itself in the attitude of penalizing thrift, as it appears to have done by the tax laid upon mutual insurance companies in the income tax feature of the tariff bill.

As The Constitution has shown, fraternal insurance and mutual savings banks are exempt under the bill. After deducting the necessary operating expenses, the entire net profits of the mutual companies are pro rated into dividends. Hundreds of thousands of people in this country with incomes considerably less than $4,000, which is the exemption under the income tax bill, patronize these institutions. And yet to the extent of reducing their dividends by this legislation, they are denied the very exemption guaranteed by the measure. Notwithstanding this, the fraternal companies go free—as if a mutual company was anything else than a fraternal company.

The discrimination is not only unfair, but will, if enforced, work hardship, as indicated by Mr. Wyck's personal experience. If congress is going to exempt the policyholders in fraternal concerns and depositors in mutual savings banks—and both are entitled to it—it should also exempt policyholders in mutual life insurance companies, and the senate should so amend the bill.

THE BERRIEN AFFAIR.

The Constitution presents elsewhere today the other side of the Berrien county, fisheries controversy, regarding which so much of a sensational nature has recently been published.

All Georgians who believe in fair play should familiarize themselves with the other side of the case. The Constitution has itself never been disposed to summarily indict the people of Berrien county. They are among the best in the state, from the standpoints of respect for law and order and that restraint that always goes with good citizenship. The county itself is rich and prosperous, with a reputation uniformly that of obedience to authority and reverence for law.

It gives us pleasure to present the other side of this muchly-discussed affair. There should be no snap judgments, nor impulsive accusations where a people noted for integrity and orderly conduct are concerned.

TO UNBOTILE ALASKA.

Former Secretary of the Interior Fisher talked straight from the shoulder the other day to the senate territories committee in condemnation of the government's present restrictive policy toward Alaska. He showed that unless we adopted a more liberal attitude the development of that tremendously rich territory would be indefinitely halted.

No one can accuse Mr. Fisher of being a spokesman for the "interests," whose prospective depredations in Alaska have made the more ultra type of conservationists see things at night. In fact, Mr. Fisher is himself a conservationist of the Pinchot school. He has made a personal inspection of the situation in Alaska. As a result, he declares that the government should begin at once on a railroad that shall permit the development of the territory. As it is now there are no facilities for transportation, and the progress made in the territory has been gained at tremendous odds.

Congress has, as a matter of fact, consistently neglected Alaska. It has been either indifferent or fearful that whatever action it took would be misconstrued by the conservationist. The territory has paid the penalty. The hosts of hardy Americans who have gone there with the intention of making the territory their homes and growing up with the country, have labored against all sorts of handicaps. For instance, they have had to pay several prices for coal brought from British Columbia, when they were surrounded by some of the richest deposits in the world. All because congress had not seen fit to enact laws under which Alaskan coal can be mined.

We have not yet awakened to the potential wealth of this great distant part of the nation. Congress has been negligent. It is to be hoped an aggressive and broad-minded policy will be one of the achievements of the present administration.

IF SPAIN JOINED FRANCE.

The visit of King Alphonso of Spain to Paris has revived European gossip relative to an approaching political understanding between France and Spain. The young Spanish monarch has been received with the utmost cordiality by the French. There is something peculiarly appealing to the lively and chivalrous French nature in the courage and spirit which Alphonso has several times shown. And the two nations have much in common from the commercial point of view.

Should Spain sign an offensive and defensive treaty with France, or even enter into a so-called "gentleman's agreement," the effect upon European politics would be decided. As it is now, the continent is divided into two groups of powers. France, England and Russia comprise the "triple entente," Germany, Italy and Austria the "triple alliance." Each of these combinations is assumed, in a manner, to offset the other.

Now, should Spain link her fortunes with those of France, she evidently would become an outright or implied party to the triple entente. The nice balance of power in Europe would, therefore, be upset and diplomatists would have to devise a new set of calculations.

One thing the world would have to be thankful for, and that is that such action on part of Spain would give the peace party in Europe the ascendancy. For the present at least neither France nor England nor Russia want war, and their pacific attitude has largely influenced Austria and Germany throughout the recent disquieting events. The addition of Spain to the party of peace would materially strengthen the appeal for peace.

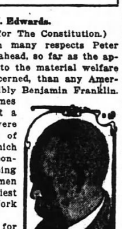
How Peter Cooper Provided for Future Inventive Development.

By E. J. Edwards.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

"I think that in many respects Peter Cooper was further ahead, so far as the application of science to the material welfare of the world is concerned, than any American, excepting possibly Benjamin Franklin. So said the late James J. Requa to me at a time when we were both taking heed of the manner in which a modern elevator construction was being perfected by workmen in one of the loftiest buildings in New York city.



E. J. Edwards.

Mr. Requa was for many years a prominent merchant of the United States. Vessels owned by himself and his partners carried on a considerable commerce with China, the far east and south America. His business brought him frequently into association with Cuba.

He continued: "Do you know that Mr. Cooper, years before anybody had ever thought of the apparatus which we call the elevator, or, as they call it in England, the lift, foresaw the great invention in the future of an apparatus of this kind?

"That Peter Cooper did foresee this is capable even at this day of visible demonstration. I have often thought that there ought to be set up a tablet upon a piece of construction with which Peter Cooper ordered to be done when he was planning for the building of what is widely known as the Cooper Union. Mr. Cooper was accustomed to say to his business friends, that owing to the peculiar formation of Manhattan Island, and also owing to the rapid growth of population, it was essential, or would be in the course of a few years, that very high buildings be constructed, at least for business purposes.

"At that time, I think, there were few, if any, business houses which contained more than three flights of stairs. The highest building in this city, and I think in the United States, was the tower of Trinity church.

"Mr. Cooper felt certain that as soon as means could be provided which would obviate the necessity of climbing more than three flights of stairs, business buildings of New York might possibly obtain a height of eight stories. Even Mr. Cooper never dreamed of business buildings that would rise in the air as many as thirty stories or even more. He thought there might possibly be a ten-story building.

"When he was planning the construction of Cooper Union, the great benefaction by which, perhaps, his name will best be remembered, he found it essential that the building should be of unusual height, at least for that day. Yet he realized that the upper floors would only be used in case of necessity, since everybody dreaded a long climb of stairways. As he was thinking the matter over, it suddenly occurred to him that sooner or later some one would provide a machine which would be able to carry people from a ground story to an upper flight. He thought, at one time, of the crane construction. Probably, if he had not been occupied at that time with very important matters, some of them relating to the development of electricity, he might himself have invented what we know as the elevator. But Mr. Cooper was so certain that some one would invent an apparatus of that kind that he gave orders for the construction of a great shaft in the Cooper Union building reaching from the basement to the upper stories. This shaft was not unlike the kind afterward employed for elevator construction, excepting that it was circular instead of square.

"When Mr. Cooper was asked why he was putting a great circular shaft of that kind in the Cooper Union building, he replied: 'Some day some one will invent a machine which will by mechanical power carry people from a basement to the top of a building, no matter how high. I want to have the Cooper Union building so constructed that it will be ready at any time to receive and install an apparatus of that kind. That is the reason why I have ordered this shaft to be constructed.'

"And," continued Mr. Requa, "that original shaft is in the Cooper Union building to this day."

Dust Threatens Health.

Editor Constitution: The admirable communication of Mrs. M. R. Emmons and your editorial in yesterday's Constitution certainly deserve immediate notice and action at the hands of the city authorities.

On account of the dust on Peachtree street to the dwellers on this street life is made miserable. A little sprinkling of water on this street would not only give comfort, but possibly save lives of people on that street who are now threatened because of the existing situation. An occasional rain is the only means of the dust being settled on that thoroughfare which is constantly used by all kinds of vehicles, and as there has been no rain for weeks there is nothing now but to breathe, taste and eat this dust as well by day as by night.

Is it asking too much for the city to at once get busy and employ water sprinklers so that the people living on this street, as well as other streets in Atlanta similarly afflicted, can live in a little comfort while paying heavy taxes?

I hope that both you and Mrs. Emmons will keep up your good work until we get relief.

There is a report current that the women of the state are secretly organizing their forces preparatory to seizing and demolishing all the whisky as it arrives at the different railroad stations over the state. If this rumor proves a fact it will more effectively reduce the shipping of whisky from wet to dry states than the Webb bill has. It is said this late idea is conceived as a companion to that adopted by Carrie Nation, of Kansas fame.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON
The Famous Prose Poet.

Modern Innovations

"This is the season," said the man in the slouch hat, "when all good housewives are ambitious to make their homes beautiful and comfortable. In order to make your home a delight to the eye, madam, you must see that your floors are in good shape. If your floors are shabby, it makes no difference what you do to the rest of the house. You may hang priceless oil paintings on the wall, and cover the mantel with articles of vertu, and still the place will look dead tough. It will be like a man who wears a fine glossy plug hat and has his toes sticking out of his shoes.

"Now, I am introducing a floor polish that will be a boon to every housewife. It will make your house look like a ball room. It is composed of—"

"Never mind what it's composed of," interrupted Mrs. Curfew. "I don't want to hear any rigmaroles about barks and bugs and healing herbs and other wholesome ingredients, and when I want a floor polish I'll go to the hardware store for it. 'Patronize home industries, and when you are told you will not depart from it' is my motto, and hereafter no agents need apply, and if you'll take my advice, mister, you'll go and get a respectable hat before you talk floor polish to any more women. It stands to reason that a man with such a hat can't be depended upon."

"The old fashioned way of painting a floor is good enough for me. Some linseed oil and yellow ochre mixed will do more good than all your patent nostrums, no matter who indorses them. It would have been well for me had I always realized this fact, but in times past I wasn't sufficiently on my guard against agents, and so fell into the snare of the fowler time and again. Last spring an agent came to the door selling just such a wholesome compound as you are offering. I was suffering from a brainstorm at the time, as my little granddaughter was visiting me, and she persisted in bumping her head with the floor and her sufferings were frightful to witness. She's a charming little girl in every way, shape and form, but she does have more accidents than any human being I ever saw, and whenever I know she's coming I go to the drug store with a market basket and lay in a supply of court plaster and healing lotions.

"I was so worried and excited that I had bought a gallon can of the man's floor polish before I realized it and so the next day I applied it to the floors in strict accordance with the directions on the can. I also painted the stairs with it, and I must confess that it looked fine when it dried. When Mr. Curfew came home he said it looked first rate, but he was afraid somebody would have a broken neck, as the surface was like glass. After supper he went upstairs to put on his best clothes, as he had to go to a meeting of the school board, and presently I heard him coming down again. He came down about two steps in his usual dignified way, and the rest of the distance he traveled on his backbone, and it would have rended a heart of stone to hear him come bumpety-bump, bumpety-bump, keeping time, time, in a sort of Runic rhyme, as the poet says, and when he reached the bottom he kicked all the panels out of the door and sat there with his legs in the sitting room and his body on the stairs, and I hope I'll never again be obliged to listen to such remarks as he made on that solemn occasion.

"The upstair rooms smelled of sulphur for three days after it and I swept up a dustpanful of dark blue language on the stairs. I managed to get his legs out of the door with great difficulty, and helped him to his feet, and then we both sat down without premeditation in the middle of the sitting room and I began to realize that his observations were at least timely, if not in the best of taste. Then he crawled out of the house on his hands and knees and came back with a wheelbarrow load of sand, which he scattered over the floor, and when he came back from town he brought a pair of spiked shoes, which he wore until the floors were as rough as a plowed field. After such an experience you must admit that I'd be the last woman to buy a can of your floor polish."

The World's Mysteries

HOW LARGE WAS XERXES' ARMY?

A vast amount of nonsense has been written about armies and wars of ancient times, and present-day historians find great difficulty in modifying their stories to fit what might be considered a safe and sane estimate of what these wars really amounted to and the number of men engaged in them. In the early period it was very easy for a statement to be made that exaggerated armies to any extent, and this was frequently done in order to awe the opponents, expecting thereby to protect themselves from attack through fear. It was not possible then in any way to obtain the actual facts.

An excellent example of this is the account of the Persian army of Xerxes, which most historians greatly overestimate. Commonly computed at 5,000,000, the best evidence goes to show that camp followers and all did not much exceed one-fifth that number, the increase being due to the natural inventiveness of the Oriental imagination and to the vanity of the Greeks, who prided themselves in having defeated the greatest army ever known, and so quintupled the number.

Then as to Xerxes' ships, his "thousands of ships" were mostly in the mind's eye of the writers. To begin with, they numbered only barely over one thousand, counting every style of craft, and as 400 of these were lost in a storm, when Xerxes arrived off the coast of Greece he could only count about 800 vessels.

In a great measure it was Herodotus who is responsible for this exaggeration, for he states that "Xerxes led from Sardis a host of 1,700,000 men, besides half million more which manned the fleet he had assembled."

"Was there a nation in all Asia," cries the Greek historian, "which Xerxes did not bring with him to Greece? Or was there a river, except those of unusual size, which sufficed for his troops to drink?"

But what was the character of this Persian host? A historian of recent date says, regarding the march: "The baggage led the way; it was followed by the first division of the armed crowd that had been brought together from the tributary nations; a motley throng, including many strange varieties of complexion, dress and language, commanded by Thessalian generals, but each tribe retaining its national armor and mode of fighting.

A space was then left, after which came 100 picked Persian cavalry, followed by an equal number of spearsmen. Next ten sacred horses of the Nisean breed were led in gorgeous trappings, preceding the chariot of the Persian Zeus, drawn by eight white horses, the driver following on foot. Then came the royal chariot, also drawn by Nisean horses, in which Xerxes sat in state. He was followed by two bands of horse and foot, and by a body of 10,000 Persian infantry, the flower of the whole army, who were called the Immortals, because their number was kept constantly full. They were followed by an equal number of Persian cavalry, and the remainder of the host brought up the rear.

It is quite likely that a million or more Persians followed Xerxes into Greece, but it is a most absurd exaggeration to say that he was able to get together anything like 5,000,000, or even half that number of soldiers in all parts of his domain 500 years before Christ. Xerxes counted his soldiers on the plain of Doriscus, on the banks of Hebrus, in the following way:

A space was enclosed large enough to contain 10,000 men, and into this the myriads were successively poured and discharged until the whole mass had been rudely counted. They were then drawn up according to the natural division and Xerxes rode in his chariot along its ranks, while the royal scribes recorded the names, and most likely the equipments of the different races.

It would not have been possible under the circumstances, to have handled such an unusually large force at that early period. They would have been entirely unnecessary to accomplish the objects for which Xerxes had set out, and it would not have been possible to control or feed them. It is quite likely that the army was one of the largest that was ever organized, but it is even doubtful whether it reached the smallest figure, that of 1,000,000 persons.

COAL MINERS

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

A coal miner is a brave man with broad shoulders, who sticks a lamp into his cap and goes down in among the ribs of the planet in order to excavate coal enough to keep the world warm next winter.

Coal mining is as uncomfortable as riding back and forth on the New York subway. The coal miner does not have to hang from a strap, but he must lie on his side and cut out tons and tons of coal with a pick. When he has done this for four or five hours his complexion is a rich, oily black, and the only clean thing about him is his smile, which looks like a gash in a watermelon. Coal miners bathe as often as the upper classes, but put more vigor and muscle into the job.

Coal mining is as dangerous as telling the truth in Tennessee politics. If the roof of the mine does not fall on the miner or he is not choked by choke damp or burned by fire damp or dessicated by a blast which has waited a while to think it over before exploding, he may live to a good old age, but this is not customary. Coal miners work from 100 to 500 feet under ground, and in case of trouble they have only two fire escapes—both upward. A coal mine ought at least to have as many exits as a nickel theater.

Coal miners and New York business men have a good deal in common. Both work about six hours a day and both travel the last quarter of a mile to their jobs in elevators. When the coal miner steps into his elevator the engineer lets him down so fast that if he went to fall he would bang his head against the roof of the car.

The coal miner makes from $4 to $6 a day while living, but there he differs from the New York business man. He makes nothing at all after he is dead. Mining towns are full of miners' families who are trying to exist on the income of the $900 which the father earned by getting under a piece of falling roof.

Mining coal is not as hard or as disagreeable as running for office, but it is wearing work, and no one should blame the miner for striking now and then if he can get a vacation in no other way.

Capacity

By George Matthew Adams

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

Your Capacity is the stored up Power that you have available for your Everyday Doing as well as for the various Emergencies of your Life. Also, Capacity is the Valuation chalked up as your Real Assets which you and you alone know as your own.

Capacity is Possibility.

The very knowledge that you possess Capacity is in itself an inspiration most extraordinary. It enables you to tread your way bravely and under cover of Smiles with Sunshine streaming into every corner of your Heart. For you to know that you have Capacity to go through a piece of work or to the accomplishment of a certain Purpose or Ideal is to you more than Wealth.

Capacity is Possibility.

Many a man has turned away from his employ many a worker whose Capacity he took no time to investigate, but which later had to be reckoned with in Competition. When the late Marshall Field discovered unusual Capacity in a worker, he recognized it and later joined it to his business as the shape of a Partner.

Capacity is Possibility.

Study yourself as you would a masterful piece of machinery, for you are the most wonderful Handiwork that has ever been put together. Each day should find you more familiar with your Abilities and Capacity than the day before. Your latent and undiscovered or unrealized Capacity may now be holding you into Mediocrity. Ask yourself if this is true. Find out what your Capacity suggests and you can be about what you determine to be.

HITTING THE POOR MAN.

Editor Constitution: I have carefully read your article in this morning's paper on the "Unfair Discrimination" of the income tax law by which they have relieved fraternal organizations of tax but levied a heavy tax charge against mutual life insurance companies.

I am a hard working man with a family of six, and my income is just about one-fourth of the $4,000 limit mentioned in the bill, so you will see that I have not much to spare for life insurance, and yet I cannot think of dying and leaving nothing with which to educate children.

Several years ago, realizing the necessity of some protection in case of death, I took a policy in a fraternal order because it was cheap, and which was all right as long as it lasted. I then took a policy in a strong mutual company because the premiums are reduced every year by dividends, giving me my insurance at cost.

Now I agree with you that it is unjust and unfair to lay a tax on these companies, which is obliged to come out of the policy holders, as there is no capital stock, and it will bear directly on men like me who are least able to pay and who are most in need of insurance for their families.

I see that the bill also relieves mutual savings banks, and I certainly feel that the man who is trying to provide some protection for his family by investing his savings in a mutual life policy is as much entitled to relief as the depositors in a savings bank. Neither one is run for profit, but for the benefit of all the members. Keep up your good work and help us all you can.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO BUILD GOOD ROADS

United States to Spend $500,000 This Year on Experimental Highways.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., May 8.—(Special.) The Federal government will this year spend $500,000 on experimental good roads. It is the largest amount ever appropriated for such a purpose since Henry Clay got through the appropriation for the Cumberland road. Before many years a good roads bill will be passed by congress with the same frequency as a river and harbor bill or a public buildings bill, according to the enthusiastic advocates of improved highways.

While a commission was at work framing a comprehensive scheme for co-operation between the national and local governments in building new arteries of commerce, there was included in the post office appropriation bill a half million for experimental road building.

The postmaster general and secretary of agriculture have finally agreed upon a plan for spending this money. It provides for the government defraying one-third of the cost of the work done, the state to pay one-third, and the county to pay one-third.

The states have been divided under this plan into eight groups, each group of similar physical characteristics and one of each of these eight states has been selected for the experimental and demonstration work provided for in that provision of the bill. The South Atlantic and Gulf states, beginning with Virginia, have been put into one group. Of this group North Carolina has been selected as the state in which this demonstration road work is to be undertaken and $40,000 has been set aside for this purpose. The governor will be requested to select the road to be constructed.

Both the postmaster general and the secretary of agriculture are very anxious to begin this work as soon as possible, so that they may file a report based upon the data obtained recommending a comprehensive scheme for state and federal co-operation for the constructions of roads at the beginning of the next session of congress. If approved by congress an appropriation will be made in the next postoffice appropriation bill to make it effective.

Senator Bourne's committee has already outlined a comprehensive plan, and have a bill which they will "suggest" to congress, which would involve the consent of all the states to the plan. It is proposed that a billion dollars in government bonds be sold at par, bearing three per cent interest, and each state put into the federal treasury as collateral for its proportion its own bonds bearing 4 per cent. The proportion of funds allowed each state is based upon the taxable property, area, population and mileage of roads in the state. This plan simply proposes to utilize the superior credit of the national government for the purpose of road building—the government paying 3 per cent interest, while the states pay four. The excess of one per cent interest paid by the states would go toward creating a sinking fund, which would eventually take up the bonds of the states.

It is hardly probable that the congress would be willing to go into a plan of this nature until there was a full test of public sentiment upon the subject, and, of course, all the state legislatures would have to act upon it, and there would have to be a long campaign of education to get the idea fully grasped by the public mind.

Under Senator Bourne's plan, Georgia would get $24,500,000, putting up 4 per cent bonds as collateral.

GLOVER TO BE CALLED BEFORE BAR OF HOUSE

Washington, May 8.—The question of proceeding against Charles C. Glover, a Washington banker, on a charge of having affronted the privileges of the house will be taken up tomorrow. Mr. Glover is charged with having assaulted Representative Sims, of Tennessee, in a public square for remarks concerning Mr. Glover which the representative made on the floor of the house.

As the house adjourned tonight after passing the tariff bill, Representative Underwood announced that the report of a special committee appointed to investigate the charges would be called up tomorrow by the chairman, Representative Davis, of West Virginia. The report finds that Mr. Glover, in assailing Mr. Sims, committed an affront to the privileges of the house, since under the constitution a member of congress cannot be called to account outside of congress for statements made in debate on the floor, recommends the arrest of Mr. Glover and urges that the house take up the question of gun bing him.

It is generally believed at the capitol that he will be called before the bar of the house and reprimanded, although in at least one similar case the house ordered an offender imprisoned for assaulting a member.

HOSIERY MEN ATTACK DOWNWARD REVISION

Philadelphia, May 8.—"Downward revision of the tariff was condemned by several speakers at the closing session today of the annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers.

E. H. Weihmarner, of Hagerstown, Md., said things had come to a stage where the manufacturers must do something to counteract measures now proposed which would make it difficult for the manufacturer to earn a legitimate profit. He declared the minimum wage would add to the cost of production and compel manufacturers to discharge those who could not earn the minimum wage.

"Girls," he said, "seldom expect to remain in the factory permanently, and, in consequence, it takes six months to a year for a new employee to turn out the maximum of production."

Resolutions were adopted calling upon congress to adopt 1-cent letter postage.

FRIEDMANN RETARDS TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT

Washington, May 8.—"One of the adverse factors that are retarding the prevention of the white plague" was the characterization applied to Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine by President Homer Folks in his opening address today at the meeting of the national association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis.

"Nothing like the series of events," said the speaker, "which followed the announcement of the Friedmann 'cure' in Berlin, has hitherto occurred in the tuberculosis campaign. Only those who have been engaged from day to day in inducing state and local authorities to appropriate funds can appreciate how vastly more difficult this task has been made in the last few months by the extremely effective press agents of Dr. Friedmann.

"Thus far it has not been evident to me as a layman that any of those who have had to do with the subject in this country have won much credit."

Votes for Illinois Women.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The bill by which women of Illinois would be granted suffrage as to all statutory offices of the state was ordered favorably reported by the elections committee of the house of representatives today. The measure passed the senate yesterday. Governor Dunne has not yet indicated his attitude on the measure.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED TO THE UNDERWORLD

Lieut. Gov. O'Hara Says Attack on His Morality Is Plan to Ruin Him.

Chicago, May 8.—The missing register of the Hotel Sherman in this city, which figures in a secret affidavit presented in the state senate attacking the morality of Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, chairman of the vice commission, was found today.

The affidavit was presented by Deputy Sheriff Richard M. Sullivan, but it was made by another person, whose identity is obscure, so far as the public is concerned. It was produced upon the insistence of the lieutenant governor, who declares that it is part of a conspiracy formed in the underworld by persons whose incomes were threatened by his crusade against vice.

The affidavit is said to state that last January O'Hara and a prominent young woman of Springfield registered at the Hotel Sherman as "E. D. Duncan and wife." A Springfield millionaire and another woman said to have registered as "J. J. Miller and wife," are alleged to have shared the "Duncan" suite. A handwriting expert will compare the signature of "Duncan" with that of O'Hara.

Later it was learned that the affidavit was signed by Maud Robinson, of Springfield.

Harry Gibbons, a court bailiff, said today that he was with O'Hara in Chicago on the night of January 17, when "Duncan" and "Miller" registered at the Hotel Sherman.

"O'Hara and I went to the cafe of the Hotel Sherman," said Gibbons. "There we met Tom Vredenberg, of Springfield, and two of his girl friends. O'Hara was afraid some one might try to make the party the nucleus of a 'frame-up' and asked me to stick along. We went to another cafe later. We left about midnight. Vredenberg and the girls crossed the street toward the hotel and O'Hara, who said he was going to the Press club, started in that direction. I went home."

Gibbons said that O'Hara met Vredenberg through renting a house from him at Springfield.

At Springfield O'Hara told friends of the dinner party, saying he had an unquestionable alibi.

Comparison of the handwriting of "Duncan" and "Miller" by an expert this afternoon showed no similarity to that of O'Hara's.

Investigation Is Ordered.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The senate today empowered Senators Ettelson, Jones, O'Connor and Bailey to investigate the affidavit obtained yesterday from Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, made by a Springfield woman and reflecting on the morality of Lieutenant Governor O'Hara. The committee has the power to administer oaths and subpoena witnesses.

The resolution was adopted after the senate had heard the testimony of an investigator for the vice commission regarding a conversation with Deputy Sheriff Sullivan.

The investigator testified to a conversation he had with Sullivan on the night of April 28 in the Leland hotel. He said Sullivan told him the investigating commission had better stay away from Springfield; if not he would produce an affidavit that would put the commission out of business and make the state minus a lieutenant governor.

"GIFT DRAWINGS" BRANDED LOTTERIES

Kansas City, May 8.—"Grand gift drawing contests" used by merchants of Windsor, Mo., to draw county shoppers on market days, were today declared lotteries, illegal under federal statutes, by Judge Van Valkenburgh in the federal court. The court fined the Livingston Trading company, Windsor, $500 for promoting such a drawing.

Under the drawing scheme shoppers at Windsor stores were given numbered tickets with each purchase. At evening the tickets were placed in a barrel and the drawing made. Holders of lucky numbers took away with them varieties of objects ranging from $20 gold pieces to thimbles and bedroom slippers.

"SLIT SKIRTS" BARRED TO THE GIRL STUDENTS

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—"Slit skirts" cannot be worn in Los Angeles schools by students. The order caused the absence from Polytechnic High school today of Misses Levne and Leonitas Parker, sisters, who were told to go home and change their raiment when they entered their class room with ankles twinkling through vents in their skirts.

Principal W. A. Dunn's order was vigorously protested by fellow students of the Parker girls, who accused the principal of discrimination, in that he allowed a young woman employed in the school offices to wear such a skirt.

KANSAS GIRL TO WED PARIS MILLIONAIRE

Seneca, Kan., May 8.—The engagement of Miss Frances Scoville, of Seneca, and Walter De Mumm, of Paris, millionaire manufacturer and sportsman, has been announced to Seneca friends of the bride-to-be.

Miss Scoville is the daughter of C. C. Scoville, president of the Citizens' State bank of Seneca. Since her graduation from the high school here ten years ago she has spent most of her time in travel in Europe, and now she is in Switzerland. It was at a Swiss winter resort that she became acquainted with De Mumm. The date set for the wedding is June 2.

Miss Warfield Weds a Count.

Baltimore, May 8.—Miss Louise Warfield, daughter of former Governor Edwin Warfield, and Count Vladimir Ledochowski, of Poland, were married today at the residence of the bride's parents by the Rev. Dr. William A. Fletcher, rector of the cathedral. Cardinal Gibbons was present and gave the young couple his blessing after a few words of advice and admonition upon the sacredness of matrimony and the marriage tie. The Count and Countess Ledochowski expect to sail for Europe next Saturday and will reside in Poland.

Negro for the First Time.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 8.—For the first time in the history of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers a negro is occupying a seat as a delegate at the national convention, now in session here. He is Edward Harris, of Covington, Ky.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS TO WORK IN THE CONGO

Dallas, Texas, May 8.—The general mission board of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, today decided to open a mission in the Congo district of Africa, the first time an African mission has been attempted by the church It was announced the mission will be in a field never touched by civilization. The three missionaries who will go to the African field are Rev. A. J. Stockwell, of Lake Charles, La.; Dr. D. L. Mumpower, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. C. C. Bush, of Charleston, W. Va.

Determination to enter the African mission field followed a report by Bishop W. R. Lambeth of a personal investigation of the situation. About $21,000 already has been subscribed toward equipping the mission.

Appropriations for various mission fields, totaling $374,098, were made by the committee on estimates, and passed by the board. They included $60,219 for general work and $59,860 for women's work in China, $30,330 for Japan, $58,312 for general work and $31,422 for women's work in Korea, for Mexican conferences $158,717, and $7,099 was subscribed for Cuban missions.

The mission board decide to cooperate with the Epworth league in holding a church conference in Cuba in 1914.

WIFE COULDN'T FACE HUSBAND'S CHARGES

San Francisco, May 8.—Mrs. Bessie C. Merriam suffered a complete nervous collapse last night, and was unable to appear in court today when the divorce suit brought against her by her husband, Captain H. C. Merriam, U. S. A., was called for a further hearing. An attorney told the court she was unconscious late last night.

Captain Merriam affirmed his willingness to abide by a suggestion of Judge Graham that the original suit be withdrawn and Mrs. Merriam file an amended answer, bringing herself a suit charging desertion, which would not be contested.

This suggestion, made with a view to suppressing further unsavory evidence which would work an unnecessary wrong to Charlotte, the 10-year-old daughter of the couple, was agreeable to counsel for the defendant, but he could not formally acquaint the court with his client's decision until she was in better health. The case was continued until next Tuesday.

Captain Merriam had charged his wife with misconduct at Jackson barracks, Louisiana, naming Clarence Murphy, then a major on the staff of the governor of Louisiana.

HOW WILSON VIEWS EXEMPTION CLAUSE

Washington, May 8.—President Wilson let it be known today that when he acts on the sundry bill he will make a statement concerning the provision in it exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecution under a fund appropriated for enforcement of the sherman anti-trust law.

The president will sign the bill, according to prominent democratic members of congress, who have talked with him about it, but will point out they declare, that substantive law and the question of whether labor unions are immune from prosecution under the anti-trust laws are not affected by the provisions of the appropriation bill. It is regarded as practically certain that in the December session of congress an effort will be made to revise the anti-trust laws and some democratic leaders believe the proposed exemption merely will postpone until then a definite understanding of how far the anti-trust laws affect labor combinations.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS CAPTAIN ARRIVES

New York, May 8.—S. N. Doust, captain of the Australasian tennis team, which will compete here next month in preliminaries for the Davis cup, arrived in New York today. Doust's teammates recently arrived in California from Australia.

Doust, 35 years old and slight of figure, has been playing in English lawn tennis for seven years.

Doust said he was doubtful of the success of himself and his teammates. "If the Americans beat us, though," he said, "it will be due to their fast service."

Cornell Bars Turkey Trot.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 8.—The turkey trot, the tango and other so-called modern dances will not be permitted at the Cornell senior ball this year, according to the statement of Acting President T. F. Crane. Only the waltz and two-step will be seen in the big senior event and at other social events to be held at the armory. The order, which also will include the navy week festivities, came after action by the board of trustees.

Japs Study Our Navy.

Washington, May 8.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt, of the navy department, today received four officers of the Japanese navy, who have come to the country to study American naval affairs. They will visit the Washington navy yard and plan to spend about six months visiting other yards and naval stations. They have just completed similar studies in England. The officers were presented to Acting Secretary Roosevelt by Commander Takeuchi, naval attache of the Japanese embassy.

"DOLLAR DIPLOMACY" ATTACKED BY BRYAN

Secretary Throws Light on the Naming of Miller to Arbitrate Ecuador Railway Tangle.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 8.—(Special.)—William J. Bryan, secretary of state, in the current issue of The Commoner throws further light upon the Guayaquil and Quito railroad tangle, which Judge A. L. Miller, of Macon, Ga., has been appointed to arbitrate.

Mr. Bryan in his article deals with the reasons why Henry L. James, a former official of the state department, was forced to relinquish the position of arbitrator. He says Janes' appointment was responsible for "irritation which is prejudicing American interests in Ecuador."

Some surprise has been expressed that Mr. Bryan should have refused to give the Washington correspondents the inside facts of this case and should then publish them in his own paper.

In conclusion he says:

"The decision reached by the president in this case is hailed with joy not only in Ecuador, but throughout Central and South America, because it is a promise that the moral force of this government will not be used to compel acquiescence in methods that are repugnant to our own principles of jurisprudence.

"Dollar diplomacy has not only menaced American interests in foreign countries, but it has closed the door of opportunity to American capital; it has excluded American enterprise from a fertile field which is the natural outlet for American business men. We heard a few years ago of the importance of confidence as an aid to business; can there be confidence without justice and fair dealing as a foundation?

"The harvest is ripe and President Wilson is seeking to extend and enlarge the area of American activity. He has rightly decided that honesty has a commercial value and that justice is a business asset of importance. He expects to make the American capitalist favored throughout those countries which are only partly developed and he expects to do it by compelling American investors to be as honest and fair abroad as they are at home."

Suits of Beautiful Homespuns
In Ireland and Scotland and England, where goods of this character is made unto this day in the crudest and most primitive fashion, they bring forth fabrics for each summer season which for texture and coloring is marvelously beautiful.
Its primitive construction means a very limited production and likewise very exorbitant prices, and is therefore very rare.
Its counterpart, however, is being shown here today in Suits which for coloring and texture shows the American enterprise of reproduction in a quality not prohibitive.

To Mr. and Mrs. Conklin.

Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry entertained at a beautiful dinner party at the Piedmont Driving club last night in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Conklin, who leave soon for the east to spend the summer.

The party numbered twelve and dinner was served in the pink room, where an elaborate plan of decoration was carried out. Palms were massed in the corners and the table was a charming picture in pink and silver.

The centerpiece was a plateau of pink roses and at each end were tall vases of roses. Smilax was garlanded over the cloth and silver dishes of bonbons were tied with pink tulle.

The silver candlesticks had pink shades and pink was repeated in pretty details of service. The ices were pink loving cups filled with strawberries, and the cakes were embossed with pink roses. The place cards were dainty French figures.

Concert Invitation.

The eighth and seventh grades of the Atlanta public schools extend a cordial invitation to the parents of the Parent-Teacher association to attend the annual concert of the schools at the Auditorium this evening, at 8 o'clock.

The folk-song program is an interesting one, composed of songs from England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and America, the assisting seventh grades singing four songs of Scotland, France, Austria and Italy.

A thousand children will sing in the concert, representatives from 35 schools. Dr. Percy J. Starnes, organist, will be the accompanist of the evening. Miss Kate Harralson, the director of music, will conduct the chorus.

The mothers of the city will be pleased with the rendition of familiar southern songs, songs that the boys and girls heard crooned in their babyhood days, and now sing in an artistic manner in their farewell concert before leaving the grammar schools for the much desired high school.

The seventh grades assisting in the concert are from Crew, Edgewood, Formwait, Calhoun, Williams, Lee, Pryor and Peoples. The public is invited to be present.

Gift Party.

The Young Women's Bible Class of the Central Presbyterian church will hold its annual "Gift Party" this evening, from six to eight, at the home of Mrs. Richard N. Clark, 570 N. Boulevard.

Mrs. Clark will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. R. D. Crusoe, leader of the class, and the following officers, Mrs. W. W. Cotton, president; Mrs. M. M. Grinnell and Miss Cora Bruce, vice presidents; Miss Levancia Davidson, treasurer, and Misses Henrietta Welsh and Helen Greenlees, secretaries.

Rummage Sale.

A rummage sale will be held at 117 Piedmont avenue all day Saturday for the benefit of the Home for Incurables. Any contributions will be greatly appreciated by the board of management and may be sent to 414 Piedmont avenue until Saturday.

Musical Service at Temple.

On Friday evening, May 9th, at the Jewish temple, corner Pryor and Richardson streets, the entire evening service will be devoted to music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Spiker Heads League.

The Atlanta branch of the Drama League of America met Wednesday afternoon in the studio of Mr. W. W. Memminger and formally organized, electing the following officers:

President, Mrs. William Clair Spiker; first vice president, Mr. W. W. Memminger; second vice president, Mrs. Edward Brown; third vice president, Mrs. Roby Robinson; secretary, Dudley Cowles; treasurer, Mr. Lindsey Hopkins. Directors: Mrs. T. B. Felder, Mrs. Albert Howell, Jr., Mrs. Burton Smith, Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd, Mr. Thomas Egleston, Mrs. J. W. Conkling, Mr. Robert L. Freman, Mrs. H. L. Stearnes, Mr. Walter Rich.

The directors will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to plan for the year's work, and further perfect the details of the organization.

To Seminary Seniors.

In compliment to the senior class Washington seminary, Miss Grace Stephens will entertain at afternoon tea next Wednesday. Miss Virginia Farr will entertain at tea on Thursday, the 15th, and Miss Dorothy Traynham will entertain on Monday the 19th.

The juniors will entertain the seniors today at the home of Miss Willis Smith in Druid Hills, and the alumnae of the school will give a garden party next Friday on the seminary lawn in compliment to the seniors and the juniors.

Yesterday Miss Ida Winship gave a pretty tea which assembled the senior class at her home for a happy afternoon. Garden flowers decorated the reception rooms, and the tea table, picturesque in pink, had its centerpiece of roses.

Miss Winship wore a becoming lingerie gown.

Mrs. Westmoreland's Tea.

Mrs. George Westmoreland entertained at a pretty 5 o'clock tea yesterday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street in compliment to her guest, Mrs. A. M. Gwathney, of Richmond, Va.

Quantities of pink and white sweet-peas and growing plants decorated the house.

The centerpiece of the tea table in the dining room was a basket of pink sweetpeas and all of the decorative details were pink.

Mrs. Westmoreland was gowned in white crepe de chine and Mrs. Gwathney wore a gown of black silk poplin.

Mrs. Westmoreland was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Mrs. Dowman, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Julian Prade.

Evening Bridge Party.

Miss Frances Seabrook, of Maryland, was the honor guest at a pretty bridge party last evening given by Mr. and Mrs. William Buehler Seabrook at their home on North Boulevard.

Paul Neron and La France roses decorated the rooms and the porch, where several of the tables for bridge were placed, was decorated with trailing vines, palms and ferns.

The ladies' prizes were an embroidered collar and cuff set and a silver chatelaine pencil.

The prizes for the gentlemen were a silver pencil and deck of cards. The guest of honor was given a dainty gauze fan.

Miss Seabrook wore a gown of pink satin brocade with draperies of pink chiffon with crystal trimmings.

Mrs. Seabrook wore a handsome gown of white princess lace over blue satin. Invited to meet Miss Seabrook were Misses Sturdivant, Miss Annie Lou Pagett, Miss Nancy Hill Hopkins, Miss Louise Johnson, Miss Mary Blalock, Miss Jennie Sue Bell, Miss Laura Cowles, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Carolyn King, Miss Penelope Clarke, Miss May O'Brien, Mr. Palmer Johnson, Mr. Julian Murphy, Mr. Angus Perkerson, Mr. George Street, Mr. Joseph Burton, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Ben Daniel, Mr. John Paschall, Mr. Paul Reid, Mr. Marion Harper, Mr. William Allen, Mr. Peter Hill, Mr. Edward Clarkson.

Birthday Party.

Master Edgar Neely, Jr., entertained a number of his young friends at a very delightful party yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Neely, in Ansley Park.

The occasion was the third birthday of the young host.

Games were played, after which dainty refreshments were served in the dining room.

A beautiful birthday cake, embossed and decorated with three pink candles and surrounded with a wreath of pink roses, was the centerpiece of the pretty table.

The candle shades, candies, ices and cakes were pink.

Among those present were: Philip Austin, Jr., Sam Dorsey, Fred and Thornwell Jacobs, Lewis Magid, Jr., Frederick G. Hodgson, Sloat Hodgson, Jennie Crocker Hodgson, Pratt Wardlaw, Hugh Lokey, Mary Beth Lokey, Rachel Neely, Sara Law, Sarah Duplie, Charlton Ogden and Charles Hopkins.

To Mrs. Spratling.

Mrs. Roy Collier will entertain at luncheon Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. James Hook Spratling, of Macon, who will arrive Sunday to be her guest.

To Miss Winn.

A pretty compliment to Miss Elizabeth Winn, of Richmond, who is the guest of Mrs. Ruddle, was the luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. R. G. Blanton at the East Lake club house. The party included: Miss Winn, Mrs. Ruddle and her mother, Mrs. Hall, of Richmond; Mrs. John Tyler and her daughter, Miss Josephine Tyler, of Richmond; Mrs. J. L. Brown and Mrs. Brewer, of Eatonton.

Birthday Supper.

Miss Marie Weaver entertained informally at supper last night at her home on Baker street, the occasion a compliment to Mr. Charles Yeates, whose birthday it was. Six young people enjoyed the occasion, and they were seated at a table prettily decorated in pink, its centerpiece of sweet peas.

Breakfast Party.

A delightful event among the series of parties marking the visit of Miss Ruth Wilson, of New York, with Miss Helen Dargan was the breakfast party given by Mrs. H. L. Cobbs yesterday at the Driving club.

Fourteen young women were Mrs. Cobb' guests—Misses Wilson, Dargan, gan, Annie Lee McKenzie, Mary Helen Moody, Ruth Stallings, Jenie D. Harris, Sarah Rawson, Marion Atchison, Katherine Ellis, Margaret Hawkins, May Atkinson, Esther Smith, Caroline Muse and Emily Winship, and they were seated at a long table in the palm-lined loggia. Down the center were three mounds of pink peonies and snap dragons, and at each place were little clusters of the flowers. The place cards were water-color pictures of old-fashioned girls.

Miss Wilson wore a becoming gown of cream ratine and black hat. Miss Dargan wore white ratine, figured in Dresden design, and her black chip hat was trimmed with French flowers.

Tag Day Chairmen.

All the Tag day chairmen of committees are hereby notified to call for their Tag day supplies at the Southern ticket office on the viaduct, Saturday afternoon from 4 o'clock on.

They are requested also to send at once a list of the young ladies assisting them to Mrs. Frank R. Logan, 196 Juniper street, so taht the complete list may be published.

To Miss Phinizy.

Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun gave an enjoyable card party of three tables yesterday in compliment to Miss Marion Phinizy, of Augusta, who is the guest of Mrs. A. W. Calhoun.

Sweet peas and ferns were used in effective decoration, and the prizes were pictures.

For Miss Seabrook.

Mrs. Samuel S. Wallace will entertain informally at bridge Monday morning for Miss Frances Seabrook, of Maryland.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

ONE day, when Mr. Jones returned with what his weekly toil had earned, he found his little wife in tears and mood not suited to her years. It seemed the cook had bade "adieu," likewise the washerwoman, too.

Gold Dust as Strike Breaker

At first within the House of Jones there followed sad despondent moans. No hopeful word could reconcile, no honied kiss inspire a smile. "I never knew before" said she, "how horrid household cares could be."

"Upon my word I'm up at six and working still as midnight ticks. I scrub and run and wash and shine to keep the little things in line, and yet around me here and there I see undone another share. I almost feel as if I'd like to join the other ones on Strike. Some morning try it—get a mop; go through from cellar to the top, and I will venture you must see, the greater burdens fall on me."

Another "Reform Movement"

Now Mr. Jones was passing wise and later, sprang a glad surprise. Through friends who praised the "GOLD DUST WAY," he brought a package home one day.

From tears to sunshine, Wifey now has found the good of "Knowing How" and striking servants fail to stir, the placid calm content of her.

BAPTIST TABERNACLE TO SELECT PASTOR

Committee Will Meet to Choose Successor to Dr. MacArthur, Who Resigned.

A new pastor for the Baptist Tabernacle will be selected at next Wednesday evening's meeting of the committee on pulpit supply, of which A. C. Boatman is chairman.

Since Dr. Robert S. MacFarland resigned from the pastorate of this church there has been no regular pastor, and as a result the attendance is said to have fallen off considerably.

The committee has its eyes on several men of international reputation, and one of these will be called after Wednesday's meeting. According to Mr. Boatman, the man to fill this position must be a born leader of men, a man who will exert a strong influence on the life of the masses in Atlanta and will at all times be ready to take up the fight against the march of evil. While men in all sections of the city are being considered, it is probable that the man selected will be from the north or east. As the salary is $5,000 or more per year, there will be little trouble in getting the right man.

When this man is picked it is hoped that he will remain with the Tabernacle as long as his usefulness lasts.

"This church is a church of the masses," said Mr. Boatman yesterday. "It stands between political and moral wrong and the masses of the city of Atlanta. It has always been ready to fight for civic betterment, and the man we select will be a man woh will lead in the fight for cleaner and better living. He will be a man who will lead masses, a man who will be of genuine service to Atlanta."

BOYS TO AID PROGRESS.

Junior Order of Chamber of Commerce to Be Organized.

A committee of fifty members of the chamber of commerce will meet Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to organize a junior order of the chamber. The instilling of civic patriotism and the Atlanta spirit in the young America will be the object of the order, and as it has made a success in a great number of other cities, it is thought that such will be of great advantage to Atlanta.

It is the intention of the chamber to take in all boys over a certain age in the city of Atlanta, and train them up in civic and commercial pride, in order that when they become older they may be of service to the city, and active members of the chamber itself.

CHILDREN'S CONCERT TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Over 1,000 Boys and Girls of the Public Schools Will Sing at Auditorium.

A large audience is expected at the Auditorium this evening to hear the delightful concert to be given by the school children of the eight grades, assisted by a selected number from the seventh grades.

There will be a chorus of over one thousand boys and girls and as they have been specially trained this feature alone will be well worth hearing.

A fine program has been arranged, which was published in full in last Sunday's Constitution.

Dr. Percy Starnes will be the accompanist on the organ.

A cordial invitation has been extended by the children to the public to come out and hear them sing.

Auto Kills Negro.

Brunswick, Ga., May 8.—(Special.) Abraham Brinson, one of Brunswick's old-time negroes, was run over by an automobile Tuesday night and died today as a result of his injuries. Brinson was a negro of the old type, who are so rapidly disappearing in this section.

Get The Syrup Habit—It's Good For You

Velva Syrup is more than a mere sweet. It's a fine, wholesome, healthful food. It's just what growing children need—and it's good for grown-ups, too. Earnest, careful scientists have long ago exploded the mossy idea that sweets are harmful—and they tell you that sweets are necessary. You'll find the syrup with the RED LABEL, fine. It has the smoothest of sugary flavor and rich color. It makes candies, fudge, cakes and cookies that just melt in one's mouth. It goes great with griddle-cakes and it will make your good muffins, waffles and biscuits better. Try it and see if this isn't so. Ten cents and up, according to size. Velva in the green can, too, at your grocer's. Send for the book of Velva recipes. No charge.

VELVA

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille.

"A simple and reliable remedy for skin eruptions, chaps, cold sores, pimples and eczema is Mother's Salve. It is healing, cooling, soothing and antiseptic in action. It should be in every family medicine cabinet.

"Just worrying about hair falling out won't help any woman. A few minutes' work is better than hours of worry. Faded and brittle hair, falling hair and baldness are caused by a parasite that destroys the life of the hair. Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites, leaves the scalp healthy and clean and makes the hair fine and fluffy. Enough for several months can be bought at any drug store for 25c.

"Spotted, sallow and muddy looking complexions, together with skin eruptions often present in the spring, require a cleansing treatment instead of face powder. An ideal complexion beautifier is easily made at home by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. It makes the skin soft, fair and lovely.

"To remove superfluous hair on face or forearms make a paste with a little water and powdered delatone, cover the hairs for two minutes, then remove and wash the skin. Delatone does not discolor the skin and is safe and sure."

TWENTY-FIVE MURDERS ASCRIBED TO ONE MAN

Moore Used an Ax to Kill His Victims—He Is Now in Prison.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 8.—Twenty-five murders committed with an ax in Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Iowa, are ascribed to Henry Lee Moore, now serving a life term in the Missouri penitentiary, according to a theory announced today by M. W. McClaughey, agent of the department of justice. Moore went to the penitentiary at Jefferson City after being convicted of the murder of his mother and grandmother at Columbia, Mo., last December.

PROBE WILL BE MADE OF "TAXICAB GRAFT"

New York, May 8.—Reports of "taxicab graft" received at the district attorney's office will be called to the attention of the present grand jury. Books of one of the largest of the New York taxicab companies were produced at the district attorney's office today to show that annual passes had been issued to aldermen and other city officials. The grand jury will be asked to determine whether these passes had anything to do with the recent failure to get an ordinance for taxicab reform through the board of aldermen.

One of the aims of the proposed ordinance is to abolish the private taxicab stands maintained by hotels and restaurants in the public streets. The cab companies are said to pay half a million dollars for these stand privileges annually.

CLAIRVOYANT TRUST TO FEEL THE PROBE

Chicago, May 8.—Grand jury investigation of the so-called clairvoyant trust is expected to begin when the May grand jury is sworn in next Monday. The announcement was made after State's Attorney Hoyne had returned to the city with Joseph H. Ryan, brought here from Lusk, Wyo, on charges of swindling.

The state's attorney, it is said, has evidence that politicians promised the clairvoyants protection here and that money was paid some members of the police force by the so-called clairvoyants. More than 100 complaints from victims have been received by the state's attorney since the arrest of Ryan was made public.

EX-SENATOR BRIGGS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Trenton, N. J., May 8.—Former United States Senator Frank O. Briggs died tonight at his home in this city. He had been ill for several months and lapsed into a state of coma this morning, from which he never rallied. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mr. Briggs was born in Concord, N. H., in 1851, and was graduated from West Point Military academy, afterward serving as second lieutenant in the infantry. Besides serving a term in the United States senate, he was former state treasurer and mayor of Trenton. His term in the senate ended March 4 last.

AS WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE HUSBAND HANGS SELF

Cleveland, Ohio, May 8.—While Mrs. Clara Mehiman, 42 years old, was in court today, waiting to testify in her suit for divorce from Egitius Mehiman, she was summoned to the telephone. Answering she received a message that her husband had committed suicide by hanging. The court proceedings ended immediately.

AWFUL THOUGHTS QUICKLY BANISHED

Thought, at Times, That She Would Die—Saves Herself, Also Young Girl Whose Troubles Were Similar to Hers.

Clarksville, Tenn.—Mrs. H. L. Mason, of this place, writes: "I want to write you a few lines in regard to your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic.

Before my marriage I lived in Evansville, Ind. I suffered very much with womanly trouble. I thought, at times, that I would nearly die with pains in my stomach, and backache.

I saw your medicine advertised, and sent and got a bottle. The first bottle helped me, and I haven't been bothered with any of my old trouble since.

After my marriage, I lived in Mt. Vernon, Ind., and one of my neighbor's girls suffered like I did. I told them to give her Cardui, the woman's tonic, as it would help her, and it certainly did, right away.

I will surely recommend Cardui to all women, for I think it is a good medicine for all kinds of womanly trouble."

If you are suffering from any of the ailments peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., we urge you to give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

It should surely do for you, what it has done for thousands of others, in the past half century, who suffered with similar troubles.

Begin taking Cardui today. Your druggist sells it.

TROLLEY CARS ARRIVE FOR ALBANY'S NEW LINE

Albany, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Albany sat up and took notice yesterday afternoon when a string of four flat cars, on which were loaded four trolley cars for Albany's new street railway system, were pushed by a switch engine through Washington street to a point just beyond Broad, and there left standing.

It was the first shipment of rolling stock for the Albany Transit company's lines, and it was tremendously interesting to the people of this community. A crowd quickly gathered about the cars, from one of which the canvas tarpaulin covering it had been removed that the admiring throng might see just how it looked.

The cars are of the "pay-as-you-enter" type, and each will seat thirty passengers comfortably. Albany thinks she will be able to make it necessary to use the hand braces often. She is quite certain that this will be the case on the day fixed for the formal opening of the line—May 15.

Trailers are thought to be now en route, and it is believed they will reach Albany in time for opening day. It will be made a sort of red-letter day occasion by the community, and many out-of-town parties will be here. A game of South Atlantic league ball has been transferred from Columbus to Albany for the occasion, and there will be a sort of half-holiday, beginning at 3 o'clock. Everybody who can find standing room on the trolleys will be ridden free up to 2 o'clock, but after that hour it will be strictly a nickel a ride for all sorts, classes and conditions of people.

The new street railway system has been built with Albany money, and Albany money only. No bonds have been issued and no loans floated In this respect it is regarded as a unique street railway system, so far as Georgia is concerned.

HIGH SCHOOLS MEET AT BRUNSWICK TODAY

Brunswick, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Eleventh District High School association will convene in Brunswick tomorrow, and considerable interest is being manifested in the many contests which are to be held during the day. The program has just been completed and it is a big one, the visiting guests busy during their short stay in the city.

At 11 o'clock in the morning the declamation contest will be held at the Grand Opera house. Representatives from the following schools will appear: Valdosta, Waycross, Jesup Baxley, Sparks, Bunn-Bell and Brunswick. The speakers in the contest are chosen on account of their individual merits as speakers, and represent the best talent of their respective schools.

The athletic events will occur on the beach at St. Simons island. These will consist of relay races, hundred-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 200-yard dash, hurdle race, long jump, high jump and shot-put. The beach is admirably adapted to the purpose, and the visitors will be given an opportunity to see the ocean. The boat will leave Brunswick at 2 p. m., and the contests will begin immediately upon the arrival of the steamer at St. Simons.

Tomorrow evening the final exercises will be held at the opera house. At this time it will be decided as to who is the best musician in the high schools of the eleventh district, and also who is to bear the palm as winner in elocution.

BIG STORES TO GIVE HALF HOLIDAY SOON

Employees in Atlanta's big department stores will be given a half holiday on Saturdays, beginning June 14, and lasting for the entire summer. This is an earlier date for Saturday closing than local stores have ever had before, and a later date has been set for ending the holiday, as the six leading merchants have agreed not to resume business on Saturday afternoons until September 13.

The following dry goods stores have entered into the agreement: J. M. High company, Keely company, Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company, J. P. Allen, Davison-Paxon-Stokes company, and M. Rich Bros. company.

OFFICERS OF FIFTH GUESTS AT G. M. A. CAMP

The officers of the Fifth regiment, national guard of Georgia, were the guests of the Georgia Military academy cadets at their camp near Lakewood Thursday afternoon, and their inspection of the camp brought forth enconiums of praise. At 5 o'clock supper was spread for the officers and cadets.

Thursday night was ex-cadet evening and many former students of the College Park school joined the army officers and undergrads in the dance, which lasted until "lights out" was sounded at 10 o'clock.

ESCAPED PRISONER KILLED BY POSSE

Soperton, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—W. T. Radney, a farmer, who was convicted of burglarizing a meat market here Wednesday night, was shot to death Thursday morning by a member of a posse, who claims that the killing was an accident. Radney is alleged to have been killed by a shot from a gun in the hands of Lee Keen, of the posse.

The posse, which was formed to rearrest Radney, consisted of Mayor Lamar Holmes, Lee Keen, J. W. Bart and Town Marshal Wade. Radney was found about four miles from town.

SHRINERS TO KNOW ALL ABOUT ATLANTA HOTELS

If Atlanta does not get the Shriners' convention for 1914, it will not be the fault of Fred Honaker, secretary of the Atlanta convention bureau, who has just compiled a neat and attractive pamphlet on Atlanta hotels which will be extensively distributed at Dallas.

This pamphlet states that there is $7,702,000 worth of hotels in the Gate City, containing 2,868 rooms, and 1,446 baths.

The booklet contains further information on Atlanta, showing that the population is no wmore than 177,000, and "growing every minute."

SILVA GETS 2 YEARS FOR CHORUS GIRL'S DEATH

Savannah, Ga., May 8.—Isaac Silva, who was tried in the superior court on Monday for causing the death of Marion Leonard, a chorus girl, by giving her an injection of morphine, was convicted today of involuntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act. Judge Walter G. Charlton sentenced Silva to two years in the penitentiary.

REAL NAMES ARE KNOWN IN "MRS. ELLIS" AFFAIR

Scandal Is Hinted At in Mysterious "Fall" of Woman From Train Near Cordele.

Cordele, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Refusing stoutly to discuss the affair at any time, the woman who gives her name as Mrs. W. K. Ellis has shed no light on the mysterious circumstances surrounding what is now firmly believed by officials of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway to have been an attempt at suicide by jumping from the sleeper of a train on this road at Ross, Tuesday morning, while it was running 40 miles an hour.

It is learned taht the officials have acquainted themselves with the fact that the woman has given a fictitious name and that they know her real name and that of the man who held the ticket to the berth occupied by her.

Unless forced to do so by the woman filing suit, the railroad company will not attempt to develop a scandal, according to a statement of Colonel J. G. Jones, division counsel for the road, who refused to divulge the names of the parties. To relieve themselves of the blame of the alleged attempted suicide is as far as they will carry the case. In the event the woman will sign papers to this effect, which she has agreed to do. The personal effects of the so-called Mrs. Ellis, which were left on the train, were delivered to her today at the sanitarium here, where she is still seriously ill.

Georgia and Tech battle at Athens this afternoon in the first game of the most important series in college ball of the season. It should be a great series.

GREAT COLLEGE SERIES STARTS TODAY

WHIFFS

Listen to This.

ROHE signs with Atlanta; may land first base job." This is the head in the New Orleans Daily States announcing the purchase of the veteran by the Crackers. The story says, in part: "Belief is advanced locally that George will eventually succeed Joe Agler, first baseman, who doesn't seem able to hit the ball." Don't make us laugh, our lips are cracked.

Is Appropriate.

SID MERCER, the veteran sport writer on the New York Globe springs this headline: "Fielding Is One Thing, But How Is One to Stop Homers." He speaks of the drubbing that the Giants have been getting of late and four-ply smashes are blamed for it. This headline would be appropriate in reviewing the recent Cracker-Gulls series.

Sign Up Haigh.

HOLESWORTH has signed up Catcher Haigh, formerly of New Orleans and Memphis, to help out Meyer until Dilger was operated on for appendicitis a few days ago, and will be out of the game for sometime, maybe for the entire season.

Reason It Out.

THE BILLIES made three changes in their line-up against the Crackers Yesterday. Cotton Knaupp, formerly of New Orleans, was at short. Joe Kutina, former Brownie was at first and Snyder, a pitcher, was in the box.

Ty Must Hustle.

ALTHOUGH he is hitting at a .376 clip since he ceased his holdout, the famous Georgian, Tyrus Raymond Cobb, must crowd on all the speed he possesses to hope to overtake Speaker, Jackson, Sisler and Collins, who have a good start on him. But the Peach always gets better as the season gets hotter, and he will probably be in the running before many days have passed.

Big Series On.

GEORGIA and Tech play at Athens today and Saturday, and in Atlanta next Friday and Saturday. These games are the one big event in sportdom at the present writing. Georgia rules the favorites to win if the dope runs true to form. But will it?

As Was Predicted.

THE CONSTITUTION predicted the securing of Bill Chappelle by Manager Billy Smith, and despite denials of same, our prediction has been verified. Chappelle reports to the Crackers in Montgomery this morning.

Is Disgusted.

IF FURCHNER delivers the goods for the Crackers, some members of the present staff of twirlers will be dropped. It's up to the players to show their best form in the near future or the local manager is likely to keep the new men in their places.

NATIONAL.

Dodgers 2, Cubs 1.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 3.—Brooklyn defeated Chicago 2 to 1 today, largely through Manager Wilbert Robinson's two of his three misplays paving the way for Brooklyn's two runs. Both pitchers were effective, Vance hits scattering, all that Lavender and Rucker allowed. Chicago's solitary run was scored by Schulte on a hit by pitcher, a steal, Hafey's wild throw and an out. Brooklyn's first talley came in the third, when Moran reached first on Evers' fumble and was forced by Cuthbaw. The latter stole second and counted on an out and Wheat's scratch hit. Daubert scored the winning run on an error by Evers, a steal, Fisher's infield hit and Miller's sacrifice fly. The game ended sensationally when Miller ran toward the grandstand for Archer's foul and doubled up Phelan stealing.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago . . . . . 000 001 000—1 3 3
Brooklyn . . . . . 001 100 00x—2 3 4

Batteries: Lavender and Bresnahan; Rucker and Miller. Time, 1:25. Umpires, O'Day and Emslie.

Doves 6, Pirates 1.

Boston, Mass., May 3.—Boston today won its third straight game from Pittsburg. Dickson, the local twirler, allowed the visitors only two hits, one of which scored Pittsburg's lone tally. Boston pounded Adams for nine safe hits and forced him to retire after the sixth inning.

Score: R. H. E.
Boston . . . . . 011 202 00x—6 10 1
Pittsburg . . . . . 001 000 000—1 2 2

Batteries—Dickson and Whaling and Raiden; Adams, Robinson and Kelly. Time, 1:45. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

Cardinals 5, Phillies 4

Philadelphia, May 3.—Two men were out in St. Louis's half of the ninth inning, with Philadelphia one run ahead today, when the visitors developed a batting rally which eventually gave them the victory by 5 to 4. Sheckard started the rally with a triple and singled by Oakes and Wingo and a double by O'Leary followed, putting three runs over the plate. In the home team's final effort, Welsh and Delan, batting as pinch hitters, were singled. Capron running for the former. Sallee, who had taken Harmon's place in the eighth inning, was succeeded on the rubber by Ferrit, who hit Paskert, filling the bases. The best Philadelphia could do was to score one run on Knabe's sacrifice fly. Manager Dolly of Philadelphia, disputed Umpire Klem's decisions on called balls in the second inning and was sent to the club house.

Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . . . 200 000 002—5 13 2
Philadelphia . . . . . 200 000 101—4 9 1

Batteries—Sallee, Perritt and McLean, Wingo; Chalmers and Killifer, Doolin. Time, 1:52. Umpires, Klem and Orth.

Reds 4, Giants 0.

New York, May 3.—George Johnson, Cincinnati's crack pitcher, shut out New York here today 4 to 0. He held the locals to six scattered hits and permitted by two men to get past first base. Johnson has won four of the five victories scored by Cincinnati to date. The visitors supported their Indian marvel superbly and made four double plays. Bates' hitting beat New York. He tripled in the first and scored on Tinker's single. In the eighth his second three-bagger drove in Grant and Clark.

Score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati . . . . . 100 000 021—4 9 0

Chevy Chase Tennis.

Washington, May 3.—With a number of players of national note competing, the sixth annual open tennis tournament of the Chevy Chase club opened here today. There were no upsets in from the first day of play.

Gustav Touchard, present holder of the American indoor title and winner of two "legs" on the club's singles championship cup, failed to appear. C. S. Doyle, of Washington, also has two "legs" on the cup and will own it unless he is beaten in this tournament.

Losing Streak Is Broken; Billikens Drubbed 7 to 3; Long and Smith Hit Homers

Montgomery, Ala., May 3.—(Special.) Mad over the drubbings handed them by the Mobile Gulls, Billy Smith's Crackers took it out on Pitcher Snyder, the Billikens' new hurler, today, and walked away with the first contest of the series, 7 to 3.

Southpaw Price was sent to the mound by Manager Smith, and the big left-hander, although wild, had plenty of stuff. He had so much that he had difficulty in controlling it at times, but when the Billikens threatened he usually tightened up.

Price got better as the game progressed, while Snyder, who was proving an enigma to the Atlanta batsmen in the early innings, was easily solved toward the end of the fray.

It was really the southpaw's big stick that packed his own game on ice, for, with the score standing tied and two Crackers on the bases in the sixth inning, he shot a clean single to center field, sending in two runs, which proved sufficient to win.

Long's Great Catch.

A wonderful running catch up against the left-field fence by Tommy Long was the fielding play of the day. He left with the crack of Gribbens' bat, and brought down the flying sphere as it was going over his right shoulder. Despite the robbery that was inflicted on their catcher, local fans gave Long a generous round of applause.

Not satisfied with this, Long poled out a single in the first inning, and followed it with a home-run drive in the sixth inning "Wallop" Smith, the Crackers' big third-sacker, also contributed a circuit smash, scoring the first run of the Crackers' with a wallop to the clubhouse.

Sloan, the Billikens' right fielder, was the hitting star for the locals, getting three clean singles in five trips to the plate.

Long gave the Billiken fans an exhibition of his speed in the opening inning that was amazing, and stamps him as one of the fastest men that ever played baseball in Montgomery.

Tommy Shows Speed.

Long cracked open the first inning with a single. Agler bunted to third base. Long left with the crack of the bat, and, never stopping, kept right on to third, which he rounded at full speed. A relay caught him between third and home, and he was finally retired. His daring play merited success.

Neither side scored in the first inning. Welchonce opened the second for Atlanta with a single, but was thrown out stealing. Smith smashed the first ball pitched to him to the scoreboard in deep center field for the circuit.

Kutina worked Price for a free ticket to start the Billikens' half of the same inning. Spratt sacrificed him to second, and when Price threw wild to the keystone trying to catch him, both runners advanced. Kutina counted on Gribbens' sacrifice fly to right.

Wares opened the Billikens' third with a triple to right center. Jantzen was retired, but Elwert walked, and Sloan singled, sending Wares home.

Crackers' Big Inning.

Welchonce opened up the inning by beating out a slow roller to first. Smith laid down such a beautiful bunt that he beat the throw of Snyder to first for a hit. Bisland fouled out. Rose lifted a high one to Wares, which he misjudged and finally let through his fingers, filling the bases.

Dunn sent a long sacrifice fly to center, scoring Welchonce with the tying run. The other runners advanced a base. Price then won his own game by slamming a clean single to center, and Smith and Rohe scampered across the plate.

Tommy Long then ended any argument as to the ultimate outcome of the game by pickling one to the scoreboard for a home run, his great speed enabling him to beat two perfect relays to the plate without sliding.

With two gone in the Billikens' half of the seventh, Jantzen drew a free ticket, and scored on singles by Sloan and Kutina.

With two salted down in the Crackers' eighth, Long worked Snyder for a base on balls and stole second, counting when Agler hit safely to center field.

Furchner v. Brown.

Manager Smith will probably use Al Furchner, his new twirler, against the Billikens Friday, with Graham handling his slants.

Manager Dobbs is undecided just who he will pitch, but the choice rests with either E. Brown or C. Brown, with the odds favoring the latter. Pat Donahue, former Cracker, will be behind the plate.

Mobile, Ala., May 3.—Mobile continued her winning streak by defeating Chattanooga this afternoon in the opening game of the series, by a score of 4 to 3. With the score tied in the ninth, a man on second and two out, More was given orders to pass Schmidt. The batter reached over the plate, hit down the third base line and caught Gillespie off his balance, who threw wild after fielding the ball, the winning run scoring. Robertson furnished Mobile's daily home run, hitting for the circuit in the second.

Memphis, Tenn., May 3.—Hardgrove, pitching for Birmingham, proved easy for the Memphis players today, but with the aid of costly errors, the locals won 6 to 2. Seabough and Abstein, of Memphis, were best at bat. Abstein is credited with three hits and two runs out of four times up, while Seabough drove out a single and a home run. He scored twice. Kroh, Memphis pitcher, was master of the situation at all stages.

New Orleans, May 3.—Brenton's wildness and timely hitting by the Nashville team gave the visitors the first game of their series with New Orleans today—6 to 5. Perry drove in two runs in the second, while Lindsay batted in the winning run with a single in the fourth. After the fourth inning Fleharty allowed no hits and only one of the locals reached first, this being a pass to Lindsay's error.

Polo Player Hurt.

New York, May 3.—Devereaux Milburn, a member of the winning American Polo team of two years ago, and a candidate for this year's international game, was seriously injured late today in a practice game on the field of the Rockaway Hunt club. Milburn had executed a clever backhand stop, preventing a goal, and was unable to check his pony, which dashed past the goal posts and fell. The pony then kicked him in the face and chest. Physicians found Milburn was not internally injured, and said he might be able to resume his place in practice matches Sunday.

LEADS JACKETS AGAINST GEORGIA TODAY

Tech Captain's Statement.

"It must be remembered that dope compiled from previous games is of little consequence when Georgia meets Tech. Certainly dope this year is all in favor of the Red and Black, but such has been the case many times in the past. Tech has even gone so far as to turn things around completely.

"They have two much better pitchers than Tech can boast of and are heavier hitters. Georgia has a decided edge on Tech in these two departments of the game, but I doubt if they excel in fielding or base running.

"It is to be admitted that in Morris and Corley they have two of the best college pitchers in the south. These two men are not to be looked upon lightly, but it is safe to say that they will not pitch any one or two-hit games against us.

"I believe that the Athens outfield has been largely responsible for the heavy hitting of the Georgia team. It is true that they certainly have their eye on the ball, but they would hardly get as many extra bases if it was not for their sloping outer garden.

"I believe that we will play our best ball of the year against our greatest rivals. At any rate, they must not count the series won until it is over. We are far from licked before the series begins.

Naps 3, Red Sox 2.

Cleveland, O., May 3.—Cleveland again won from Boston today 3 to 2, in a pitchers' battle between Gregg and Worrell. Each pitcher had one ineffective inning. In the third, a pass and two singles scored Boston's two runs. In the sixth Cleveland scored three runs on three singles, a base on balls and Ball's error. Only three hits were made off Gregg, who fanned nine batters. Shortstop Wagner got back into the game today.

Score: R. H. E.

Batteries—Gregg and Carlich; Bedient and Cady. Time, 1:40. Umpires, Connelly and Greevy.

Tigers 3, Yanks 1.

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—Pitcher Jean Dubuc, rushed into the game in the first inning as a pinch hitter, bounced a long single off the left field wall, scoring two runs which were enough to defeat the visitors today. The final count was Detroit 3, New York 1. Hall, backed by good support, held New York scoreless until the ninth. In the inning Hartzell doubled, advanced on Chase's single and scored on Sweeney's sacrifice fly. Cobb was reported ill today and Manager Jennings used three players in right field. Gibson, a catcher, started the game but was removed to allow Dubuc to bat for him. The pitcher then played the position until Loudon, an infielder, replaced him in the ninth.

White Sox 10, Senators 5.

Chicago, May 3.—Chicago played a batting game today, driving three of the Washington pitchers off the mound and winning 10 to 5. Groom opened for the visitors, but weakened in the fourth inning and was relieved by Gallia, who retired to allow Schaefer to bat for him. Boehling took up the pitching in the sixth inning and retired seven batters in order. He has been out of the game several days on account of an injury, batted for him. Cashion finished the game.

Russell pitched for the locals and not a runner reached first base until the fifth, when Morgan drew a pass. However, in the sixth inning, with none out, three singles, a triple and an infield out gave Washington four runs. A single, an error and a sacrifice fly gave the visitors their fifth run.

Athletics 6, Browns 3.

St. Louis, May 3.—The Philadelphia team won its sixth straight game today, beating St. Louis 6 to 3. Although Hamilton pitched a good game, errors by the locals at critical stages allowed Philadelphia to pile up 6 runs. Agnew made two costly errors at the plate on perfect throws from the outfield by Johnston who had the runners beat by a good margin. Philadelphia scored two runs in the first on singles by Harding and Collins and Baker's double. St. Louis scored in the first after two were out on Williams' single and Pratt's double.

With the bases full in the third, Pratt's single drove in two more runs for St. Louis. Philadelphia tied the score in the fifth when Agnew dropped Johnson's assist, allowing Barry to score.

In the eighth Philadelphia bunched four singles with errors by Brief and Agnew, scoring three runs.

Great Tech-Georgia Series Starts at Athens Today; Red and Black Favorites

Athens, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—"The batteries for today's game: For Tech, Pitts and Attridge; for Georgia, Corley and Hutchens."

When the umpire makes this announcement Friday afternoon, the capacity of Sanford field in this city will be tested. Every seat will be taken, and even standing room will be at a premium.

The great Georgia-Tech series of games will be on—a series that, to the rival schools, students, alumni and the baseball fans of Georgia is the most important series of the year.

The two teams play here Friday and Saturday. The following Friday and Saturday the scene of battle shifts to Atlanta.

Georgia Favorite.

Georgia rules the favorite, and justly so. The Red and Black combination has made a wonderful record. They have played twenty-two games in all, winning seventeen, losing four and tying one.

Michigan won two games from Georgia and tied the third. Clemson and Auburn won a game each from the Athenians. The former broke even in a series of two games, while Auburn dropped the other two games of the three games played.

Since the other hand, Tech has won only one series this year, the last one played with the Swanee Tigers; but in this series the Jackets struck their true form for the first time this season.

Georgia surpasses the Jackets in hitting and in pitching. The Jackets are admitted to have a shade in baserunning and in the field. Admitting these facts, the Georgians ought to walk away with the two series.

Speed, Jackets' Plan.

The plan of attack of the Tech bunch has been mapped out carefully, according to the reports from Atlanta. They are going to play a rushing, taking-every-long-chance attack, with the hope of throwing the Georgians up in the air, and thus discounting their superior hitting ability.

Few bets have been made, the Jacket supporters sensibly refusing to back their team, except when offered big odds. The bets that have been made have, as a general thing, been on the size of the score, how many games Georgia will win, or the comparative number of hits and runs the teams will make per game and for the series.

*The Jackets are hopeful. They ar-*rived here tonight, and when kidded by the Georgia fans grimly replied: "Wait until you have won the games before chirping. We admit you have the edge, but we will not admit we are licked until the games are over."

Will Dope Be Upset?

It would be the irony of fate, to have the Jackets administer a trouncing to the Georgians. But baseball is baseball, and stranger things have happened in the great national pastime.

But, on the straight dope, it cannot be figured where the Jackets have any chance to upset things. Georgia has eight regulars hitting over .300; Tech but two. Georgia's pitchers have been working no-hit, one-hit and two-hit games frequently, while the Jacket hurlers have no pitched better than a four-hit game.

The exact line-up of the two teams is doubtful, but they will probably bat as follows:

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: Did George Rohe ever play with Atlanta before.—J. H. J.
No.

Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: 1. Is the McAllister that was with Atlanta the same one that caught for Montgomery last year? 2. Where did Atlanta get Bailey from? 3. Did he ever play in the Southern league before?—J. S. T.
1. No; the McAllister that Montgomery had was the former University of Tennessee catcher, while the one Atlanta had is the veteran that was with Detroit in the league. 2. From Newark in the International league. 3. No.

Chappelle Reports To Crackers Today; Furchner Pitches

Bailey Has Rejoined Team. Brady Not Fined—Graham Only Man Whom Smith Disciplined in Mobile.

By BILLY SMITH
(Manager Atlanta Baseball Team.)

Montgomery, Ala., May 3.—(Special.) I have signed Al Furchner only on trial, and I will send him in against the Montgomery club tomorrow. If he fails to show me something I will send him back to Mike Finn.

Bill Chappelle has wired me that he will join us here Friday, and he will probably be given a chance to show what he has in one of the games of the present series.

Bill was wild to join my club, and with the good hitting behind him that this club can show, he ought to win 60 per cent of his games. I believe that he will make us a valuable man.

I have not decided who I will let go in the event I decide to keep both Chappelle and Furchner. The men that show me the best form will be kept. There will be more changes if they still go bad.

Likes Musser.

I have a lot of confidence in Musser. I believe he will come around again. Wildness has been his only fault. As soon as he corrects this there will be no trouble in his regaining the stride that made him look like a million dollars the first part of the season.

The report that I fined King Brady is wrong. He is taking the best of care of himself, and working hard. If every player on the team worked as hard as this fellow, the wrinkles would rapidly leave my brow.

Graham was the only player who was fined at Mobile. Price and Weaver were fined during the stay of the team in Nashville.

Bailey Back Again.

Bailey reported here this morning, but he will not play in the series here, unless it is to bat for some one in a pinch. He is still limping some, and I am not going to take any chance with him. I am going to get him cured good before I let him go back into harness.

Weaver is beginning to show some good form again. The soreness is leaving his arm a little with each succeeding workout, and before the next couple of days have passed, he ought to be himself once more.

With Weaver, Brady, Price and Musser working in their true form, and either Furchner or Chappelle showing me something, our pitching staff ought to improve a 100 per cent.

I am making them practice control daily, and every one is beginning to show the effects of the practice. Watch out for us in the near future. The rest of the team is O. K.

Tech Batting.

By Robert L. Hughes.

The following are the official batting averages of the Tech team, including all of the college games of the season. It shows a team average of only 208 per cent, or over 100 points under that of the Georgia team.

There are only two men on the team batting over .300, and three others are batting slightly above .200.

AUBURN OUTLASTS CLEMSON TIGERS

Ezell and Davis Lock Horns in Pitchers' Battle—Former Proves Steadier.

Auburn, Ala., May 8.—(Special.)—With Davis on the mound twirling sensational ball, Auburn won the first game of the series from Clemson here this afternoon—9 to 8.

Ezell, Clemson's premier pitcher, started with a rush, pitching no-run no-hit ball until the fifth inning, striking out ten out of the first seventeen men before him.

He weakened in the sixth and the Auburn team scored three runs by bunching a single and two two-base hits with an error.

With the score tied in the sixth inning Auburn went ahead in the seventh, scoring two runs on a hit and a wild throw to second.

In order to clinch the game in the eighth Harris singled, Davenport followed with an infield hit, but Harris was thrown out overrunning third. Locke was safe on a muff by Corator, and Davenport scored on Williams' two-bagger; Graydon hit safely, scoring Locke and Williams, and scored a ninth run later on Louiselle's drive on second.

Davis was steady in the pinches, and not a deserved run was scored off his delivery. The three runs Clemson made were the results of errors of his teammates. After the fourth the Auburn team settled down, and Clemson never threatened, except in the sixth, when Davis ended their chances by striking out two men.

Graydon secured the lone putout credited to the outfielders of both teams, the pinch hitting of the Auburn team.

JAMES BARRETT WINS GEORGIA GUN SHOOT

Americus, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—The annual tournament of the Georgia State Gun club ended this afternoon and was a most successful event in state sporting circles. Forty-five gunners participated in the contest at the traps today, among the number many of the best shots in the United States.

Henry Jones, of Macon, Ga., won the high average championship in the two days' contest with 385 targets out of a possible 400, and was awarded the silver trophy for highest average. Mr. Jones also tied with James Barrett, of Augusta, for the Georgia state championship, each breaking 98 targets out of a possible 100.

In the shoot-off Barrett won on twenty straights. Jones also won the long-run medal of the tournament by scoring 145 straights.

Homer Clark, of Allendale, Ill., won the silver trophy in the professional class, scoring 389 birds out of a possible 400. He also won the double professional championship in scoring 48 out of 50 targets.

J. K. Warren, of Birmingham, won the double target amateur championship of the south after tying with Eubanks, of Atlanta, on 44 out of 50 doubles.

All of the forty-five gunners in today's tourney are pleased with the great success of this, the third annual state shoot in Americus of the Georgia Gun club.

SOUTH ATLANTIC.

Foxes 7, Indians 2.

Savannah, Ga., May 8.—Poole was easy for the Columbus crew in the first of the series here today and the locals were beaten 7 to 2. The heavy hitting of the visitors featured. Dowell's homer in the seventh after Mayer had singled accounted for the two runs scored by the locals.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	010 402 000	7	12	0

Batteries: Poole and Gelbel; Morrow and Krebs. Time 1:30. Umpires Glatts and Barr.

Peaches 6, Babies 6.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—After having the game 6 to 1 up to the eighth inning, Macon played loose ball and allowed Albany count four in the eighth and tie it in the ninth. Neither team scored in the tenth. The game was called on account of darkness. Moses was pitching ball up to the eighth, having given but one hit. He gave up three in the eighth and two in the ninth and one in the tenth. Hartner was relieved by Duggleby in the third.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Albany	100 000 041	6	7	3

Batteries: Moses and Kunkel; Duggleby, Hartner and Wells. Time, 1:55. Umpire, Moran.

Gulls 8, Scouts 0.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 8.—Horton was an easy mark for Charleston today, while Foster pitched superb ball. The visitors made fifteen hits, while the best the locals could do was to make six scratches off Foster. Aside from the hitting of the visitors, there were no features.

The score:

Batteries: Foster and Menafee, Horton and Smith. Time, 1:30. Umpire, Perder.

O'CONNOR ROASTED WHEN HE FILES SUIT

St. Louis, May 8.—The St. Louis American club, in an answer filed in the circuit court today to the suit of Jack O'Connor, former manager of the local team, for $5,000 alleged to be due him, accuses O'Connor of unprofessional conduct.

The answer charges that in the doubleheader game between Cleveland and St. Louis here October 9, 1910, O'Connor instructed third baseman Corridon to play so far back of his regular and ordinary position as to allow Lajoie to make base hits that otherwise he could not have made."

The ball club denies that it had a contract with O'Connor for the season 1911, as O'Connor claims, and insists that even if it had such a contract he had forfeited it by his conduct in the Lajoie matter.

Public School Field Day To Be Event of Saturday

The school children are looking forward with keen anticipation to the Field day exercises at Ponce de Leon Saturday morning and afternoon.

Three or four thousand children will take part, and there are expected to be several thousand people in the grandstand.

The morning exercises will begin at 9 o'clock and last until noon. The afternoon exercises will begin at 2:30 o'clock, and last until 5 o'clock, when the prizes will be awarded. Three prizes are offered in each event.

In the morning the boys will have a 100-yard dash, high jump, standing broad jump and horizontal bar tests of strength. The girls will throw the basketball, have a 75-yard dash, standing broad jump and the running high jump.

In the afternoon there will be running exercises for the smaller children, two contestants entering from each grade between 7 and 10 years of age.

Then will follow the beautiful drills, including that with flags in which 1,500 children will take part.

The motion picture men are to be on hand to take views of the exercises.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Brunswick 6, Thomasville 0.

Brunswick, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Cooke, for the locals, was in great form today and Brunswick won over Thomasville by a score of 6 to 0. The local hurler was never in danger, only one of Thomasville's players reaching third base. In the first inning Walker lifted the ball over the left field fence for a home run, bringing in two men ahead of him. This is the fourth homer he has secured since the opening of the season a week ago. Two of Thomasville's hits were mere scratches.

Brunswick . . .	400 000 20x—6	10	1

Batteries: Cates and Howald; Myers and Dudley. Umpire, Carter.

Valdosta 9, Cordele 8.

Valdosta, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Valdosta defeated Cordele here this afternoon by the score of 9 to 8. The game was replete with hits, runs and errors. Fillingin, for Cordele, outpitched Tillman, for Valdosta, except in the pinches, where Tillman bested his opponent. With the bases full in the fourth and no outs Tillman fanned the first batter up and in the next two down on easy outs. Otherwise he was in the game at second for Valdosta and played a beautiful game in the field, at bat and on the paths.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Cordele	303 020 000—8	14	7

Batteries: Tillman and Pierce; Fillingin and Eubanks, Umpire, McLaughlin.

Waycross 6, Americus 4.

Americus, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—The Americus contingent sustained defeat at the hands of Waycross in the opening game here this afternoon, the score resulting 6 to 4 in favor of the visitors. Both Americus pitchers, Warner and McCarty, are recent acquisitions and did very clever work, but the locals found the visitors too much for them in the opening game. Vanderlip and Osborne, with Manager Wahoo behind the bat, did effective work for Waycross.

Score:	R.	H.	E.

The following men will go as the Emory representatives: Sam Belk, of Atlanta, high jump and shot-put; Wilbur Carlton, Arcadia, Fla., 100, 220, 440, broad jump, hammer throw, shot-put, high jump; Joe Fagan, Savannah, 440; J. Hays, Hairston, 1-mile; Dillard Lasseter, Cordele, half-mile; J. M. Monfort, Carlersville, high jump; Gus Muse, Pattillo, pole vault, high jump; Evans Pattillo, West Point, hurdles; Asa Porter, El Paso, Texas, hurdles, broad jump; Davis Singleton, Oxford, 1-mile; Cranston G. Williams, clerk of course; Professor J. B. Peebles, track coach, will accompany the young men as the faculty representative.

The young ladies of Wesleyan college will give a reception in honor of the Emory men, Saturday evening, in the parlors of the college.

BAN ON STOVALL STILL IN FORCE

Chicago, May 8.—George Stovall's suspension was not lifted as a result of his conference with President B. B. Johnson, of the American league, today, but Mr. Johnson will confer with directors of the St. Louis Americans soon and the question of a pardon for the manager will be discussed.

Stovall declared he was more than sorry for his attack on Umpire Ferguson.

NO COLLEAGUES AIDED AT MARTIN FUNERAL

Washington, May 8.—For the first time in the history of congress, so far as capitol historians can say, a dead member of congress is being buried today without the attendance of a honorary delegation of his colleagues.

Many members of the New Jersey delegation wanted to attend the funeral of Representative Lewis J. Martin, at Newton, N. J., but the probable passage of the tariff bill kept them in Washington.

President Wilson, it is said, told them Martin, if alive, would have counselled them to remain in Washington and vote for the Underwood bill.

FIGHT DOUBLE TAX ON AUTO OWNERS

Baltimore, May 8.—The executive board of the American Automobile association determined here today to appeal to the United States supreme court for relief from the double taxation imposed in many states upon motor car owners. At present they are required to pay a personal tax and in addition, in some states, a heavy registration fee, the latter running from $10 to $25 a car in Maryland. The association will make the fight to have the charge reduced to the actual cost of issuing the license.

MR. AND MRS. WOOD BACK FROM LONG AUTO TRIP

From Atlanta to Toxaway in on automobile, as a sightseeing tour, cannot be beat, according to C. A. Wood, lessee of the Georgian Terrace, who has just returned from an automobile trip to the North Carolina town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood left here Saturday morning over the National Highway, and reached Greenville, S. C., that night, having completed the 180-mile journey in about twelve hours.

From Greenville to Toxaway they followed the Greenville-Asheville highway, reaching Hendersonville, N. C., early Sunday morning, and arriving at Toxaway at noon. The return trip was made this week, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood arrived in Atlanta enthusiastic over the "auto hike." They have aroused the admiration and interest of local motor enthusiasts who have had that trip in contemplation.

MOONSHINERS ESCAPE FROM COUNTY JAIL

After a three days' sojourn in the Campbell county jail at Fairburn, Ga., Clem Wilson, John Love and Andrew Jackson, the negroes who were arrested last Sunday by the Fulton county police in a "moonshine" still raid, sawed their way out of prison and took "French leave" Wednesday night.

Notification of the escape was received at the Fulton county police headquarters Thursday. A reward of $10 apiece has been offered for their capture.

Chartres, France, May 8.—The French airman, Frangeois, today carried six passengers on his biplane during a 75-minute flight, the duration record for an aeroplane bearing such a large number of persons.

Veterans' Benefit Ball.

The Joseph E. Brown camp, United Confederate Veterans, is making extensive preparations for the "old veterans' benefit ball," to be given May 14, at the Owls' hall and roof garden. W. F. Dannard, commander of the camp, prophecies a brilliant affair.

Chase of Dress Fads by Women Causes High Cost of Living

Des Moines, Iowa, May 8.—"The pursuit of American women for the varying fads of dress and their acceptance of designs from the European fashion centers as mandates in technique of dress, are directly responsible for the high cost of living in this country today," declared Professor Walter Sargent, of the School of Education of the University of Chicago, in an address today before the convention of the Western Drawing and Manual Training association. Professor Sargent said:

"The American should be like the Chinese woman. She should have an established style of dress and follow that style. That is what is the matter with Americans today. The pursuit of foreign fashion in dress has caused this high cost of living.

"The French, for instance, send dress and home art designs to America which they themselves will not accept, and the American woman and homemaker accept that edict as a fashion law to be followed literally. It is no wonder that women in America make themselves grotesque in the garb they wear. One does not see those styles in Paris.

"We need in America today an established bureau of design. I favor a national committee of artists who will study out designs by which style in dress and home furniture may be made."

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT MAKES PROTEST TODAY

United States Will Be Formally Told of Japan's Objections to California Legislation,

Washington, May 8.—The Japanese government through Ambassador Chinda, will acquaint Secretary Bryan early tomorrow of the nature of its objections to the anti-alien land bill awaiting Governor Johnson's signature in California, and by noon it is expected that the position of the United States government will have been defined to the ambassador.

This understanding was reached in conferences which Secretary Bryan had late today with President Wilson at the white house, and with Ambassador Chinda at the state department.

Secretary Bryan had to hurry away to Baltimore to attend a dinner there and he talked with Ambassador Chinda only a few minutes, arranging to meet him at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow, immediately after which by special arrangement the president and the cabinet will meet, one hour earlier than usual to discuss the Japanese protest. Afterward Mr. Bryan will confer again with Ambassador Chinda, explaining the attitude of the administration.

This was a busy day for Secretary Bryan on his return from Sacramento, but he gave most of his time to the California situation, discussing it at length with John Bassett Moore, counsellor of the department.

It is believed here the referendum movement being urged by Theodore Bell, a prominent democrat in San Francisco, may have the effect of postponing the entire question of a period long enough for the United States and Japan to arrive at an understanding, or perhaps negotiate a new treaty covering disputed points.

While Secretary Bryan declined to discuss the referendum, and white house officials were equally reticent, it is known that friends of the administration have told the president there would be no difficulty in getting sufficient signers in California to compel a referendum at the polls on the anti-alien bill.

In the meantime, it is expected the president or Secretary Bryan will advise Governor Johnson of the attitude of the federal government. The governor has agreed to withhold his signature from the bill, at least, until the return to Washington of Secretary Bryan. He has until May 13 to act on the measure.

Neither at the state department nor at the Japanese embassy can any statement be had as to the nature of the ambassador's forthcoming communication.

S. S. Outgrows Quarters.

Beginning with next Sunday morning the Central Baptist Sunday school will assemble for its opening and closing exercises in the main auditorium of the church, instead of the assembly room downstairs, where it has formerly met. The Sunday school workers are greatly gratified over the growth in the membership of the school which makes this use of larger quarters necessary. They are expecting work to begin before long on their new building at Whitehall and Cooper streets, which will give them greater facilities.

The Empire Life's Great 12-Year Record

The Empire L. Building—Home Office of the Company

It is, no doubt, a source of gratification to the people of the South, and especially those of Georgia, to note the steady and substantial growth of The Empire, their home Life Insurance Company.

The Empire Life's recent statement as filed with the Insurance Department of the State of Georgia shows a wonderful transformation of figures since its first entrance into the insurance field in 1901. Every year has shown an increase over the previous year, which shows conclusively the growth of the company to be steady, and not spasmodic.

End of 1901—Gross Assets	$ 46,661.51
End of 1901—Gross Surplus	5,861.01
End of 1901—Insurance in Force	927,000.00
End of 1912—Gross Assets	$ 1,959,628.69
End of 1912—Gross Surplus	651,549.40
End of 1912—Insurance in Force, About	20,000,000.00

WIMBERLY IS OPPOSED TO JURY EXEMPTIONS

Claims Present Law Keeps Many of Best People of the State From Jury Duty.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Hon Minter Wimberly, one of the members of the legislature from Bibb county, wants the jury laws of the state revised so that there will be fewer exemptions. His chief complaint is against the selling of jury exemptions by the military companies at $50 each. He says that for this reason many of the best people of the county never serve on juries.

Mr. Wimberly is considering the advisability of introducing a bill at the coming session to bring about the change he desires. It is probable that such legislation will meet with considerable opposition, in view of the fact that it is from the sale of jury exemptions that the military companies are able to maintain their high state of efficiency.

Macon Women Quarrel.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—When Mrs. Beatrice Isaf, who resides on Oak street, told Recorder Daly this morning that Mrs. W. M. Sneed, her neighbor, had pointed a pistol at her during a dispute about the tearing down of a fence separating the two yards, Recorder Daly bound Mrs. Sneed over to the city court. She was not required to furnish bond.

Mrs. Sneed denies that she drew a pistol on Mrs. Isaf and in this she is backed up by her boarder, Mrs. Florence Wade. The latter admitted there had been a dispute about the fence but that no pistol was drawn.

Yardmaster Greer Injured.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—David A. Greer, yardmaster for the M., D. & S. railroad, is at the Williams sanitarium suffering from serious injuries received when he was caught and crushed between two freight cars in the yard yesterday morning. His left shoulder was badly bruised and his chest crushed.

The yardmaster was in the act of coupling two freight cars together when in some manner he was caught between the coupling. When released it was thought he had been fatally hurt, but now it is believed he has a good chance to recover.

Two Stills Destroyed.

Macon, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Deputy Internal Revenue Collector J. C. Hinton today raided two illicit distilleries in Pike county, and made four arrests, three white men and a negro.

The first raid was on the place of Bruce Smith. Harry Kendall, a negro, was caught, but a white man whom the deputy identified as Smith, fled. He was later arrested. Both were bound over to the United States jury under bonds of $300.

A short time after that raid the deputy flushed another "still," this time on the place of Walter J. Reeves, near Zebulon. Twenty-three barrels of beer were found ready for fermentation. Reeves and Roy Caldwell were arrested, waived commitment, and were held to the grand jury under bonds of $250 each.

RECEIVERSHIP SUIT TO LAST ANOTHER WEEK

The parallel cases of E. E. Skipper, et al. and Matthew Delaney, et al., against the Guarantee Trust and Banking company, petitioning for the appointment of a receiver for the banking company, occupied the attention of Fulton superior court on Thursday.

This was the second day's hearing and was without a great amount of progress. The hearing will probably extend into next week before its conclusion.

She Killed Her Babies.

Philadelphia, May 8.—Mrs. Mary Kulasa, 24 years of age, crept from her bed today, got a butcher knife and cut her two infant daughters' throats without arousing her sleeping husband. At the police station the woman hysterically cried she had slain the babies for religious reasons.

Eight Little Girls Raise Funds By Entertainment And Bring Presents to Sick Children in Hospital

Atlanta's youngest social workers organize to aid in children's ward, Grady hospital. In the center is Harriett Rhodes, president; and the members around her are as follows: Elizabeth Rhodes, Sarah Smith, Grace Ogden, Elizabeth Ogden, Virginia Farrow, Eleanor Gay and Araminto Edwards.

Imbued with the desire to help the suffering eight of Atlanta's north side children under Miss Harriet Rhodes, the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rhodes, have organized themselves into the Junior Aid Society of the children's ward of the Grady hospital.

They rendered their first service when they called at the children's ward, bringing books, little dainties and toys to the little sick ones there. The gifts were bought with money the eight workers made themselves. They gave an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rhodes to which they charged 5 cents admittance. With the $2.60 thus realized they bought the gifts they brought to the children.

They will continue this work during the summer months for the sick, and their example will doubtless prove an inspiring one to the children of other neighborhoods during the vacation months.

The members of the club are Miss Harriet Rhodes, Miss Elizabeth Rhodes, Miss Sarah Smith, Misses Grace and Elizabeth Ogden, Miss Virginia Farrow, Miss Eleanor Gay and Miss Araminta Edwards.

300 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO R. R. Y. M. C. A.

The Railroad Young Men's Christian association has been running a thirty days' membership campaign, which comes to a close with a jollification at the rooms, 31 1-2 West Alabama street, Friday night. Three teams have been in the field and have worked most industriously. As a result more than 300 names have been enrolled.

The captain of the winning team is to receive a gold watch. The second prize is a solid gold fob and the third a solid gold seal ring.

The leaders have been J. W. Whitaker, yardmaster of the Southern railway; L. M. Hunter, traveling fireman, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and W. T. Hamilton, yard foreman, Atlanta Joint Terminal company.

Ice cream and cake will be dispensed Friday night and the association orchestra will furnish the music. It will be a "stag" affair.

"COSMOPOLITAN SHARES TO GO ABOVE PAR SOON"

The shares of the new Cosmopolitan Life Insurance company will go above par at the end of a year, according to William A. Wright, insurance commissioner.

"The stockholders of this company are fortunate in having such a man as J. O. Wynn as president," he said. "It is such men as he who have made Atlanta what it is. It would have been a calamity if the old Cosmopolitan had been allowed to go to pieces. I am glad to see that such a successful start has been made."

CONTRACTORS HOLD UP WORK ON BUILDING

The Mackle-Crawford Construction company on Thursday filed a petition at the Fulton county court house to enjoin Mrs. Mary W. Potts and the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company from doing further construction work upon the concrete building, in course of construction at the southwest corner of Peachtree and Linden streets, pending the payment of $4,483, which the Mackle-Crawford company claims is due them for construction of the concrete frame work of the building and minor work.

The Mackle-Crawford company sets forth that they did the work at the instruction of A. N. Canton, the supervising architech, and Mrs. Potts' agent, and payment of $4,483 remainder has been refused. Further work upon the building declare the petitioners, will conceal the work they have done and render proof of their work difficult.

Shortly after the closing of their contract for the work, the Mackle-Crawford company claims that Mrs. Potts transferred the Peachtree and Linden street property by warranty deed to the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, to secure a loan of $100,000.

Earl of Yarmouth to Wed.

London, May 8.—The Marquis of Hertford, former husband of Alice Thaw, of Pittsburg, whose marriage was annulled on her petition in 1908, is about to marry again. The prospective bride of the marquis, who is better known as the Earl of Yarmouth, is Mrs. Moss-Cockle, who is much his senior in age. She has a fortune of $3,250,000 left to her by her former husband.

$100 FINE FOR GLENN.

Man Who Eloped With Wife of Moultrie Banker Found Guilty.

Luther J. Glenn, who eloped with Mrs. Ione Pidcock, wife of C. W. Pidcock, of Moultrie, Ga., president of the Georgia Northern railroad, last July, plead guilty to the charge of abandoning his wife, Mrs. Effie L. Glenn, and two minor children i nthe criminal division of the city court Thursday morning, and was fined $100 with the option of a twelve months' sentence.

Glenn was placed then under a $1,000 bond, having been bound over on a writ of ne exiat.

Mrs. Pidcock, who has been a frequent visitor of Glenn's since his arrest, was not at the trial Thursday morning.

OGLETHORPE CHARTER GRANTED BY COURT

Only Presbyterians May Be on Board of Directors, and Each Must Give $1,000.

The charter for Oglethorpe university was granted by Judge J. T. Pendleton, of Fulton superior court, on Thursday.

The charter is for a term of twenty years, and gives the university all privileges incidental to conducting an educational institution to the best advantages.

The incorporators are James W. English, Sr.; Frank M. Inman, John K. Ottley, Thornwell Jacobs, Edgar Watkins, Hoke Smith, W. L. Moore, Hugh K. Watkins, E. G. Jones, James R. Gray and Hugh Richardson, of Fulton county; George W. Watts, of Durham, N. C.; J. T. Anderson, of Cobb county, and J. W. Hammond of Spalding county.

It is stipulated in the charter that only members of the Presbyterian church may be members of the board of directors and that each member of the board shall make a donation of $1,000 for the use of the university.

The university is chartered without capital stock. It is allowed to buy real estate for its own use, but "not for profit."

PARKER IS PRESIDENT OF HARDWARE JOBBERS

Mobile, Ala., May 8.—The annual convention of the Southern Hardware Jobbers' association adjourned at noon to meet next at White Sulphur Springs, Va., coincident with the meeting of the American Hardware manufacturers. The following officers were elected by the jobbers at the final session:

President, W. A. Parker, Atlanta; first vice president, St. John Eshleman, New Orleans; second vice president, C. Bering, Houston, Texas; secretary treasurer, John Ahlers, Richmond, Va., re-elected; sergeant-at-arms, H. H. Beerh, Richmond, Va., re-elected; assistant sergeant-at-arms, H. P. Chenoweth, Birmingham. W. M. Pitkin, of New Orleans, was elected member of the executive committee for one year, and J. C. Thomas, of Tampa, Fla., for four years.

The final session of the convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers' association was held this morning. The business consisted principally of the adoption of usual resolutions of thanks. Officers of the association will be elected until the fall meetling at White Sulphur Springs, Va.

The "old guard," composed exclusively of men who have been in the hardware business fifteen years or more, elected the following officers:

President, W. A. Chenoweth, Birmingham; first vice president, W. W. Crandall, Nashville, Tenn.; second vice president, Frank Burnett, Cincinnati, Ohio; secretary-treasurer, J. J. Hillman, Nashville.

BROOKLET FIGHT HARD TO FORM EAST BULLOCH

Statesboro, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—"I intend to make it my business to see all the people in the proposed territory within the next few days," said P. G. Waters, one of the leading citizens of Brooklet, today. "A committee has been appointed to canvass the five militia districts which Brooklet will form into the new county of East Bulloch. I am on the committee, and have seen many of the people in these districts, and in every instance their hearty approval has been obtained."

Brooklet, unlike the other towns around Statesboro, which are trying to cut off some of this county's rich soil, is asking for no territory from any other county, but wants a division of Bulloch county, making one east and one west Bulloch county—Statesboro remaining in West Bulloch. They claim it is only a "civil" division, and are making their fight on this basis. Brooklet is situated in one of the richest sections of the state, and it and the surrounding territory are developing rapidly. It is true that a large number of people in the proposed territory favor the creation of East Bulloch. A systematic fight has been planned by the citizens of Brooklet.

CHANGING LIGHT BULB CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

Thomasville, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—Heart failure, superinduced by a slight electric shock, was what physicians reported as the cause of the death of young Malcomb Jones, formerly of Meigs, but lately employed in business in this city, and whose funeral took place in Meigs today.

Young Jones was an employee of the Chericola company of this city, at their plant here, and while trying to change an electric bulb while working at a late hour Tuesday night, he received an electric shock and his death resulted a short time afterwards. The shock in itself is said to have been entirely too slight to have caused the young man's death, and an examination by physicians showed that the heart was in a condition that the shock, combined probably with fright, resulted in death.

Mr. Jones was about 19 years of age, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, of Meigs, and nephew of Mayor Wilkes, of that city.

METTER IS PREPARING FOR GREAT BARBECUE

Statesboro, Ga., May 8.—(Special.)—The two railroads of Statesboro have announced low rates to Metter next Saturday on account of the barbecue to be given at that place to further the cause of their new county move. Information comes from Metter that 10,000 people are expected on that day, and preparations have been made for their entertainment and welfare, plans for 150 beeves, sheep and other carcases having been made. Metter is making a fight for the creation of Candler county, with that town the capital.

Roosevelt to Aid Sulzer.

Albany, N. Y., May 8.—Governor Sulzer said today he has received letters from Colonel Roosevelt that he will place himself at the command of the governor's committee, which is to arrange the state-wide campaign to create sentiment in favor of the governor's direct primary bill. The committee expects to arrange a series of speaking engagements for Colonel Roosevelt.

SOCIAL CONDITIONS TO BE INVESTIGATED

A preliminary survey of the city of Atlanta will be started by the Russell Sage foundation on June 9. Two expert investigators will come to the city, and make a great survey from every angle.

The housing of the poor, the condition of the streets, the work and progress of the churches, the amount of immorality, and, in fact, everything pertaining to the life of Atlantans will be investigated.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the committee on social service, of which R. L. Foreman is chairman, will meet in the committee rooms of the chamber of commerce to discuss the work.

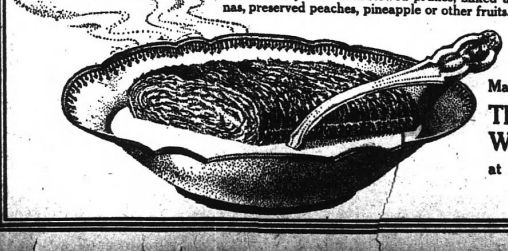
Shredded Wheat
FOR BREAKFAST

Every Biscuit is a vote for freedom from kitchen drudgery, for health and happiness in the home. With Shredded Wheat it's so easy to prepare a warm, nourishing meal in a "jiffy." It is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve. Two Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness and served with hot milk and a little cream, supply all the nutriment needed for a half day's work or play.



For Breakfast heat the Biscuit in the oven a few moments to restore crispness; then pour hot milk over it, adding a little cream; salt or sweeten to suit the taste. It is deliciously nourishing and wholesome for any meal with stewed prunes, baked apples, sliced bananas, preserved peaches, pineapple or other fruits. At your grocer's.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON VERY STEADY AT CLOSE OF SESSION

Market Advanced Early, Then Eased Off and Rallied Late in Day.

New York, May 8.—After an early advance, the cotton market eased off, under private reports of scattering showers or rains in the eastern belt, but sellers were not aggressive, and prices firmed up again in the late trading, with the close very steady, net 8 points higher to 2 points lower.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 6 points, in response to relatively firm cables, and the market sold 5 to 7 points net higher during the first few minutes, on more optimistic foreign trade advices, and overnight complaints of droughty conditions in the eastern belt. Official weather reports showed no rain of consequence in the belt and the official forecast was for continued clear weather, in the east, except for showers or local rains on the coast, but a low barometer west of the belt led to private predictions that rains would reach eastern sections within the next two or three days. Moreover, private reports began to come in during the middle of the morning, indicating scattering showers or rain in the Atlantic which seemed to relieve drought apprehensions to some extent, and the market turned a shade easier during the middle of the day, with the most active months selling off to a net decline of from 2 to 5 points. Covering by old shorts, and buying by Barlie and trade interests checked the decline, and the market steadied up in the last hour on reports that the eastern belt rains had not been sufficient enough to do much good, and exports of about 11,000 bales from the local stock. Old crop positions were relatively steady at the end, with July showing the maximum gain at the close.

Private crop reports were somewhat more conflicting than yesterday, there being more favorable advices from east of the river, and local bears claimed that rain is to be feared from a little than a dry May, but selling seemed to be restricted by reports of a good demand from the continent for new crop positions in Liverpool, and continued uncertainty as to the new crop outlook in the eastern belt.

Cotton, spot quiet; middling uplands, 12.00; middling gulf, 12.25; sales, 500 bales.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 8.—The sales of white print cloths at first hands for the week have reached 400,000 pieces, and markets are generally firmer. Buyers were more active in regard to goods at concessions. Curtailment clauses are being inserted in sale notes sent in by the mills.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 8.—The cotton market displayed no decided tendency today. Trading was professional in character, but opinion was not strong. It was much of a waiting market, the majority of traders desiring more information concerning new crop conditions.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points, on good cables. Buying was stimulated around the first call by better British board of trade returns, heavy forward sales of cloths and yarns for April than expected. On this, prices were 4 to 6 points net higher, with the Atlantic coast and reports from Memphis that there was selling for Europe. The receipt of a cent under board quotations increased offerings moderately, and prices finally were 7 points under the final figures of yesterday. The market steadied on the detailed weather reports, showing that low temperatures had not damaged the cotton region, and in the afternoon was again at the highest levels of the day.

The close was firm at a net gain of 2 to 3 points.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, May 8.—The feature of the market today was the widening of the difference of May and July and October and December, the latter trading. Outsiders are selling new crop months, hand over fist, and the principal buying seems to be for foreign trade account. Little bad weather in the belt would make a great scramble. There is a good demand for spot cotton in New York just now, both Russian and British buyers being in the market.

In spite of good weather in the belt the market closed very steady. July showed an advance over the day of 6 points, and October was one down.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 12 up on July-August and one down on new crops.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, May 8.—While favorable rains from Liverpool regarding the trade demand for cotton and absence of light stocks of manufactured goods in this country, prevented a severe early decline, prices declined later, when selling appeared, upon the announcement of rather general showers in the eastern belt. At present, however, smaller is receiving the greater attention as a market factor, especially as conditions have been so favorable for the crop thus far. We however, around the end of the month, liquidation is easily absorbed and as speculative interests are inclined to buy heavily under the uncertainty engendered in trading circles by tariff revision, the demand must come from the trade in a quiet, natural way.

Liverpool Cotton Statistics.

Liverpool, May 8.—Following are weekly cotton statistics:

Imports, all kinds, 40,000 bales.
Imports, American, 24,000.
Stock, all kinds, 1,151,000.
Stock, American, 962,000.
American forwarded, 45,000.
Total exports, 2,500,000.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 8.—Light showers fell in various sections of the Atlantic states, so that our market did not fully respond to the better Liverpool cables. Trade was in a waiting mood in the forenoon, but after noon the professional traders became free sellers, as they are deeply imbued with the belief that the result of tariff will be a serious industrial depression, and, therefore, cotton will sell at very low prices. On the other hand, spinners have drawn non their reserve supplies during the past three months, under old rules, and now find themselves without more cotton than they need. More demand is reported from them here and in Liverpool during the past few days. Europe is largely long of July in this market. Crop reports are not so brilliant as a fortnight ago, because of the backward and dry weather, but the outside influences are considered very bearish, and short interest is large.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 2½ points advance on the old crop deliveries and 1 point decline on the new.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, May 8.—Cotton seed oil was quiet in absence of outside trade. Prices were about steady, reflecting the firmness in lard. Closing prices were generally unchanged to 2 points net higher. Sales, 3,300 barrels.

FREE SELLING MADE WHEAT PRICES DROP

Official Figures of Government Report Caused No Surprise. Corn Higher.

Chicago, May 8.—Correctly forecasting that the government's report on winter wheat condition today would show 91 per cent or better, traders sold freely and prices made a net drop of 1-4 to 1-8@1-2. Corn closed at a net rise of a shade to 1-2; oats were irregular, a shade lower to a shade higher, and provisions were unchanged to 12 1-2 up.

When the government's report came, at the close of the wheat market, it had been fully discounted by the heavy selling movement. The official figures, 91.9, compared with 91.6 last month, caused no surprise. The domestic news was the dominant feature of the market, the trade overlooking the large decrease in the world's supply of wheat during April, 16,485,000 bushels, 245,000 bushels, the largest recorded at this season in more than thirteen years. Some strength was developed at the opening, because of higher cables, based on lighter world's shipments, and export sales, said to amount to 650,000 bushels, made at the Seaboard yesterday. Firmness, however, soon gave way under selling pressure. There were several sellin rallies on covering by shorts, but in the final hour weakness again became pronounced. Primary receipts of wheat today, 670,000 bushels; last year, 845,000. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled $17,000 bushels.

Strength in southwestern corn markets caused a reflex rise in an upturn here. Lightness of country offerings is again becoming a feature. Today's advance was made by influential buying. Continued reports of damage to oats from dry weather lifted prices some, after an early decline.

Provisions averaged slightly higher, but on account of a 5 cent decline in the yards, held within a very narrow range. Buying was scattered.

Copper Producers' Statement.

New York, May 8.—The statement of the Copper Producers' association as of May 1 shows a decrease in stocks on hand of 28,720,102 pounds, compared with the previous month. The decrease was in excess of all estimates, and compares with a reduction of about 15,000,000 pounds in the preceding month. Production for April was very little less than in March, but total deliveries increased almost 10,000,000 pounds, due largely to foreign demand, which was greater by power 5,000,000 pounds.

BUMPER WHEAT YIELD PREDICTED BY BUREAU

Washington, May 8.—The first official estimate of the size of the crop of winter wheat was made today in the May crop report of the crop reporting service of the agricultural United States department of agriculture, issued at 3 p. m. today. The report on the condition on May 1 of winter wheat, rye, meadow lands and pastures; the percentage of spring plowing and spring planting completed, the acreage of winter wheat to be harvested, the estimated century of the winter wheat crop and the farm price of hay on farms May 1. The figures are:

Winter wheat: The condition of winter wheat on May 1 was 91.9 per cent of a normal, compared with 91.6 per cent on April 1, 79.7 per cent on May 1, 1912, and 85.6 per cent the average for the past ten years on May 1.

The area of winter wheat remaining on May 1 to be harvested was about 30,865,000 acres, or 1,440,000 acres less than the area planted last autumn, but 4,807,000 acres more than the area harvested last year (26,071,000 acres).

The condition on May 1 is indicative of a total crop area of approximately 16.8 bushels, assuming average variations to prevail thereafter. This would indicate a crop of 518,371,000 bushels, compared with 339,919,000 bushels in 1912, 550,660,000 bushels in 1911, 464,142,000 bushels in 1910 and 417,790,000 bushels in 1909.

The crop will probably yield as large or below the figures here given, according as it differs from the average of harvest is related or below the average change.

Coffee.

New York, May 8.—Coffee futures opened steady, unchanged to 5 points net lower, on a scattering demand, which may have been prompted by the fact that the recent advance of 40 points over the ago represent offerings or recent unfavorable reports from new crop. Later more consideration about a stand-off, and business here continued very light, and local bulls seemed to be giving the bear months some support, which worked up another point or more on scattered purchases. The close was steady, net unchanged to 5 points higher.

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The proposition of regrading Whitehall street will come up before the street committee of council this afternoon at 2 o'clock for a final hearing.

The decision of the committee has been deferred until this afternoon to put everyone interested in the proposed change in the grade on notice. There is now practically no opposition to the plan, and it is hoped that the committee will approve of the scheme.

The promoters of the regrading proposition will be represented before the committee by a large number of Whitehall street property owners.

In a suit filed before the Fulton superior court on Thursday, James N. Jones, of 61 Stonewall street, asks damages to the extent of $10,000 from the Fidelity Realty & Investment company, for injuries he claims to have received when he slipped on a banana peel in front of the fruit company's place, March 27, 1913.

Jones claims that he is more than 60 years old, and that injuries to his hip from the fall will disable him for the remainder of his life.

"OH, SELL THE BLAMED THING."

Pa barked his shin oh a rocking chair. Been in the way for several years. The chair wasn't needed. And there was really no room for it anywhere in the house.

"HOW?"

Asked mother. "I don't know of anyone who wants to buy the chair, and I don't feel like giving it away. It cost us money, and it's almost as good as new."

"USE THE CONSTITUTION'S CLASSIFIED,"

Said pa. "Other people are buying, selling and exchanging through that paper. They would not be paying good, hard-earned money for want ads if they didn't do some good. Here's a dollar; try it out"—

AND MOTHER DID.

She described that rocking chair fully, in plain terms, and phoned the ad to this paper. Second day the chair was sold.

Follow mother's example and phone your want ads and replies to Main 5000 or Atlanta 100.

REAL ESTATE AS AN INVESTMENT

THERE IS NONE BETTER. Stocks may go up or down. The oil wells may run dry. The mine may be a hole in the ground, with the ore existing in someone's imagination only. The stock in the new aeroplane company may look pretty, but will the machine fly?

The man who puts his money into real estate is safe. And he is certain of returns. He is free, too. He can go to bed secure in the knowledge that the earth will be there when he wakes next day. If any portion of his investment be represented by buildings, his insurance protects him.

A sensible investor in real estate puts his money in home ground, where he can watch his investment and make the most of it. There are more fortunes being made in Atlanta real estate than the most brilliant dreamer could picture. Anyone with funds to invest can make no better disposition of them than to invest them in carefully selected real estate here in the Capital City. Few of America's cities offer so flattering a future as Atlanta. Canny investors realize this, and are buying Atlanta ground NOW. In these columns you will find the latest and best offers in real estate every day. READ.

Bertha Louise Miller, 8-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manson Miller, died at a private sanitarium at 2:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The body was removed to Patterson's chapel. Funeral and interment will be announced later.

TARIFF REVISION THROUGH HOUSE

mdt, minus the tariff board provision, was lost, 123 to 296.

Mann Continues Fight.

When the house convened at 2 o'clock Republican Leader Mann evoked a round of applause by withdrawing his demand for the reading of the bill.

Mr. Payne then presented the republican motion to recommit the tariff bill, with the tariff commission provision, the substitute for the wool schedule, and instructions to revise the rates according to the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad.

Progressive Leader Murdock endeavored to get in with a progressive motion to recommit the bill, but Speaker Clark gave prior recognition to Representative Payne and the progressive motion was ruled out.

Majority Leader Underwood immediately made the point of order that the republican tariff commission bill was not a germane amendment to a tariff bill.

While the debate on the point of order was in progress, Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, with two women guests, took her place in the executive gallery.

Tomorrow the tariff fight shifts from the house with its overwhelming democratic majority, to the senate where the party's slim majority of six already has been reduced, so far as this bill is concerned, to four. Unless senators familiar with the progress of such legislation are mistaken there is little prospect of a final vote on the bill before August 1.

The Fight in the Senate.

The bill's passage through the senate will be fought at every step by a republican organization apparently entirely in accord on this subject and entirely willing to spend unlimited time and energy in an effort to defeat it.

Leaders of the democrats on the senate finance committee, which will handle the bill, expressed the belief tonight that it would go through in practically the same form as it passed the house, and that their small majority will stand firm to the last. Subcommittees of the finance committee which have been investigating the schedules of the bill for the last few weeks, plan to make a few changes in several schedules but wool and sugar and other schedules which brought on the hard fighting in the house, are not to be touched, according to the present plan. The income tax and administrative features also are to stand. Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two senators from Louisiana will not accept the sugar schedule, and that they might be willing to combine with others to defeat the whole bill.

A change of two more democratic votes would bring about the end the Louisianians desire. Although there have been reports about the senate that the democrats intend to allow one more senator to vote against sugar and another to vote against wool, leaders of the finance committee today refused to confirm it. Republicans who have canvassed those democrats who looked at all doubtful, agreed tonight that they had but little hope of success. The republicans are convinced that President Wilson will carry the day, and the party platform will be followed, and that with the exception of the two senators from Louisiana they cannot count upon a single vote.

G. O. P. Fight to Be Vigorous.

The republican fight against the bill, however, will be conducted in vigorous style. Senator Smoot will offer amendments to every schedule in the bill. These will be debated at length and a record vote probably will be required on each.

Senator LaFollette is credited with an intention to enter into the fight independently. It was expected he would offer a substitute bill, or at least submit many amendments. He declined tonight, however, to define his position on the Underwood bill, and said he had not decided upon a course of action.

The bill will be laid before the senate tomorrow and will be referred to the finance committee. The first plan of the republicans was to move that the committee be instructed to hold oral hearings and to get a record vote on this question. This plan has been abandoned and no attempt will be made tomorrow to order hearings. The finance committee, by a strictly party vote, already has turned down a proposal to hold hearings and Chairman Simmons said tonight it would be beaten again if republicans insisted upon bringing it up in the senate.

The finance committee has been considering the bill ever since its introduction in the house. Chairman Simmons had hoped to be able to report it from the committee in two weeks from tomorrow, but he now thinks it cannot be reported under three weeks, even if hearings are not held. Opinion in the finance committee is that at least five weeks will be spent by the senate in consideration of the bill after it is reported. In conference the senators do not expect much time to be lost and they hope for a final agreement not later than August 1.

WITH THE THEATERS

"The Girl From Out Yonder."

(At the Atlantic.)

"The Girl From Out Yonder," which is being played at the Atlantic by the Miss Billy Long company, is proving the biggest bit of the stock season and is drawing crowds to the pretty playhouse. Tonight will be society night in honor of Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, the local society girl who has made a fine impression in the play. A 25-cent matinee will be played tomorrow afternoon and the last performance of this play comes that night. Next week the company will present the roaring farce comedy, "Are You a Mason?" which has a thousand laughs. Miss Harrison has an important part in the play, while two other new members of the company will have excellent roles. Seats are now selling for the week, including the extra matinee Monday and the regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The bill of vaudeville that is crowding the busy Forsyth at all performances this week is one of the best variety entertainments of the season, and theatergoers have done the one thing to prove it. The theater is crowded to its limit of capacity.

The bill for next week as prepared gives promise of being one of the sort that will keep the popular theater busy. The feature attraction will be Paul Dickey, who was a star football player with the University of Michigan, a track athlete Dickey leads all comers and in the glee clubs and comedy clubs at school he was the prime mover in all that college life meant. He will present "The Come Back," a real and worthy headline feature. On the same bill will be the Dancing trio, an Italian novelty that gives promise of being a drawing card.

Not Being Connoisseurs On Feminine Ornaments, Burglars Lose Rich Haul

Because his uninvited guests knew next to nothing, apparently, of the comparative value of the tiaras, hair and rhinestone hair ornaments, Dr. S. A. Bookhammer suffered but little through the burglary of his establishment, a hairdressing parlor, at 71½ Whitehall street, sometime between 7:30 and 11 o'clock last night.

The burglars effected entrance by means of a skeleton key, evidently, and proceeded to ransack the place. Although there was several thousand dollars' worth of hair, besides a large amount of money and jewelry, and some very valuable tortoise shell barrettes in the place, the eyes of the burglars were caught by several trays of rhinestone hair ornaments, worth in all probably $25.

They contented themselves with taking them and some bottles of hair tonic and perfume, leaving all the really valuable property behind them.

MRS. E. L. KENDRICK DEAD; INTERMENT AT SHARON

The death of Mrs. Catherine Kendrick has been the cause of universal regret among her friends throughout Georgia. Mrs. Kendrick died at a private sanitarium Thursday night. She is survived by her husband, Edward L. Kendrick, of 71 Capitol avenue; one daughter, Miss Mary Kendrick, and four sisters, Mrs. Mary L. Darden, Mrs. F. J. Sweeney, both of Atlanta; Mrs. Mollie Ward, of Paducah, Ky., and Mrs. P. J. Burke, of Birmingham, Ala.

The funeral will be held early Saturday morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and the body will be sent to Sharon, Ga., for interment at 7:30 o'clock.

DARDEN, OUT ON BOND, BIDS ON COUNTY WORK

While he was out on a supersedas bond of $3,000 pending the hearing of his motion for a new trial, Elmer T. Darden, recently convicted of manslaughter in the killing of C. M. Goddard, of Stone Mountain, is making estimates on marble and tile work for the interior of the new Fulton county court house, bids for which will be open May 15.

Darden's hearing will come up the last of this month.

Lectures on American Boy.

"Is the typical American boy a mischief? Is he primarily an athlete? Is he a student? Is he a combination of all of these characteristics and then some?" This question will be answered tonight by Marvin Williams, who will deliver an address on "The American Boy" at the Central Y. M. C. A. All interested are invited to attend.

Silver Lake Picnic.

The students of Draughon's Business college will hold a picnic Friday at Silver lake. It is an annual event with the school, and the boys and girls always look forward to the day's outing. Silver lake, with its beautiful grounds and boating facilities, offers them an ideal opportunity for an all-round good time.

BAPTISMAL SERVICES IN WEST END REVIVAL

Special baptismal services will be held Friday night at the West End Christian church, when six of the recently avowed additions to the church will receive the ordinance of baptism. The six are among those who have joined as a result of the revival services being conducted by Evangelist John T. Hawkins.

To an audience increasing nightly, Evangelist Hawkins has been preaching every evening this week, and owing to the success of the meeting thus far it is announced that the series will continue indefinitely.

Friday evening Evangelist Hawkins will preach on the subject of "Foreknowledge and Election," and his Sunday subjects will be "The First Lord's Day," in the morning, and "Salvation," in the evening.

The great "talking pictures," hailed as the greatest invention of the age, are being shown local theater-goers for the first time at the Savoy theater.

The pictures were put on Wednesday morning for the first time, and will continue for several days. As the first feature the Al Woods management showed a scene from one of the operas, the two characters singing the beautiful duet, Come With Me to Arcadia." The feature was quite a treat to the Savoy patrons.

That the talking pictures will become popular throughout the United States is evident from the favorable comments heard everywhere they have been shown. Truly, the pictures are a remarkable improvement in the motion picture industry. Seated in front, the audience cannot but believe that the figures on the screen are real and that the voices are their own. It is difficult to describe the wonderful impression one has after seeing one of the pictures.
